Says Funding Is 'Careless'

Joyce Ladar of Mill Valley today announced her resignation from the Tamalpais High School District bond campaign committee because of what she termed "the careless way in which public funds are handled."

Mrs. Ladar was a member of the steering committee for the $12,315,000 Tamalpais bond issue which failed of approval last Oct. 10. After that defeat, the committee trimmed the proposal to $9,900,500. This is scheduled for vote June 4.

"No one is more aware than I of the urgency for new classrooms in our district," said Mrs. Ladar in a letter to the Independent-Journal. "No one is more aware than I of the spiralling cost of each month's delay. . . .

"However, I cannot serve on the bond steering committee . . . after observing the board meeting of Wednesday, March 27, and the careless way in which public funds are handled."

Mrs. Ladar pointed to the explanation of Supt. Chester G. Carlisle regarding a $4,188-per-year raise for Oliver R. Bonner, district director of maintenance and operations. If it is accepted, she wrote, "the board gave Mr. Bonner an increase of $4,188 with such casualness it did not rate being recorded in any way except a typed addition to some duplicated pages."

She raised these questions:

"1. How are the taxpayers to know what other benefits are received by other people, whether classified or certified or not?

"2. How many major or minor increases does the board authorize on the findings of a 'study' that consists solely of asking the employee how much he has been offered by an unnamed private firm?

"3. Are there other accounts besides Gromme and Priestley (architects for the San Geronimo Valley high school) which are in such a state of confusion that no one knows how much is due or has been paid?"

After posing further questions about auditing of district accounts, she asserted:

"It is a very sad state of affairs when a concerned parent has to weigh the urgent needs of a school district against lack of confidence in the way in which public school funds are now being administered."

LBJ BOWS FOR UNITY IN U. S., HOPES TO MEET WITH THIEU

Another Peace Bid In Illinois

CHICAGO (AP)—President Johnson said today he hopes to meet soon in the United States with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam to "strengthen and improve our plans" for restoring peace and stablity in Southeast Asia.

Johnson made his disclosure in addressing the National Association of Broadcasters — his first public appearance since dramatically bowing out of 1968 politics.

WOULD BE HOST

Word that he expects to be host to Thieu "sometime in the weeks ahead" was dropped into his prepared text as he spoke.

Because the chief executive flew here on short notice, there were few spectators along his motorcade route into the city from the outlying airport. However, the lobby of the Conrad Hilton Hotel where he spoke was packed — and his entry was cheered lustily.

FRENZY, EMOTION

The president voiced a plea to the broadcasters that reason and responsibility prevail "amid all the frenzy and emotion" of an election year.

He said this season is a time of debate and enlightenment and "at its worst it is a period of frenzy."

The chief executive warned that "the basic hope of a democracy is that somehow — amid all the frenzy and the emotion — reason will prevail."

He called on his audience to exercise a great sense of responsibility during the campaign season — to be fair, impartial and honest.

"This is true," he said, "for broadcasters as well as for president— and seekers after the presidency."

ASKS MEETING

'A Magnanimous' Decision: Bobby

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said today that, despite President Johnson's withdrawal from the presidential race, he does not think the Democratic party now is united behind him.

"No, I wouldn't describe it in those terms," Kennedy said in response to a question at a news conference.

"Do you think the Democratic party is in a better position to capture the presidency than yesterday?" he was asked.

"....I think the Democrats can win in November," Kennedy replied.

As for himself, Kennedy told a news conference in his first official comment on Johnson's withdrawal: "I will continue my campaign for the presidency of the United States."

Kennedy said that last night he had dispatched a telegram to Johnson which read in part: "Your decision regarding the presidency subordinates self to country and is truly magnanimous.

"I respectfully and earnestly request and opportunity to visit with you as soon as possible to discuss how we might work together in the interest of national unity during the coming months."

SEN. ROBERT F. KENNEDY
In New York today

Kennedy was asked how he thought Johnson's withdrawal might affect Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, now regarded as a possible candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Kennedy replied: "He's had a very distinguished record and I just don't know what his plans might be. Certainly the answer to that must come from him."

The 42-year-old senator from New York declared: "I'm going to the American people as I have and present my views and ideas of what we need to do in our country."

Kennedy, propelled into the forefront of the race for the Democratic presidential nomination less than three weeks after his entry, returned Sunday night from an extended campaign trip in the west.

"Wherever I went," he said, "I found Americans of all ages, of all colors and political beliefs, deeply desirous of peace in Vietnam and desirous of reconciliation at home."

Humphrey Silent On His Plans

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's decision not to run for re-election rocketed Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today into the front ranks of Democratic White House contenders along with Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy.

But in Mexico City today, a spokesman for Humphrey said the vice president would not have any comment on whether he will be a candidate for president. Humphrey is in Mexico for the ceremonial signing of a Latin American nuclear ban.

The president said he was withdrawing in hopes of restoring national unity, especially in the area of searching peace in Asia. (See also stories pages 2, 3, and editorial comment, page 26.)

HALTS BOMBING

Johnson's political withdrawal statement overshadowed his announcement earlier of an immediate and indefinite halt in most air and sea bombardment of North Vietnam as "the first step to de-escalate the conflict."

He appealed to the Communists to accept his bomb-halting order as a sincere effort to end the killing in Southeast Asia.

Johnson repeated his plea again today in a Chicago speech as reports came from Paris that North Vietnamese officials were carefully studying the new U.S. move.

PRAY FOR PEACE

"I pray that the message of peace I conveyed last night will be accepted in good faith by the leaders of North Vietnam," Johnson told a broadcasters' meeting.

Britain In Peace Bidding To Soviets

LONDON (UPI)—Britain announced today it is consulting with the Soviet Union on possible new Vietnam peace moves in the wake of President Johnson's speech.

Britain and the Soviet Union are cochairmen of the Geneva Conference which ended the French Indochina War in 1954 and would have to act jointly to reconvene it.

The British announcement came after Prime Minister Harold Wilson called an urgent cabinet meeting to consider ways of carrying out Johnson's call for a new bid for peace in Vietnam.

There were two different North Vietnamese views expressed today over Johnson's peace move.

In Paris, North Vietnamese officials, while refusing to predict whether President Ho Chi Minh would agree to open peace talks, said that officials are carefully studying Johnson's offer.

There was an unofficial North Vietnamese statement in Peking that Hanoi would not agree to peace talks "because American agression in Vietnam continues. Japanese correspondents reported the comment.

British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart announced in Parliament the British government has been "in touch" with the Russians over possible new initiatives following Johnson's de-escalation of the war.

Stewart indicated one possible approach to the problem would be to enlist U.N. Secretary General Thant's cooperation in getting a complete cease-fire by

VIEWS IN MARIN

Kennedy, McCarthy Backers See Boost

Marin supporters of both Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy today claimed that President Johnson's unexpected announcement not to be a candidate boosted the prospects of their candidate.

The co-chairman of the Marin McCarthy for President Committee, Thomas Skornia, conceded that Kennedy is the stronger candidate "among the party leaders," but predicted that further demonstrations by McCarthy of his strength with the voters will swing the party leadership to his bandwagon.

"I'm sure McCarthy is in the race to stay," said Skornia.

William M. Taylor of San Anselmo, Northern California chairman of the Citizens for Kennedy in '68, however, suggested that his group may swing its support to McCarthy. With Johnson in the race, he explained, "there was no chance with McCarthy.

"We're not totally committed to Kennedy," added Taylor. "We don't want to jump into any political machine," he said.

One of Johnson's few supporters on the Marin County Democratic Central Committee, chairman Albert E. Gately, said he did not know what his next step would be. "Kennedy probably has the best opportunity in California now," he said.

"Whether we get any unity on the county level is going to depend on the unity that is established at the national level," said Gately.

Asked about his previous declarations that the Democrats could hold onto the presidency only by supporting Johnson, Gately said "it's a new ball game now."

He declined to speculate on reports that leaders of the Johnson delegation in California may try to keep it together so they can swing the convention to Vice President Humphrey.

Joining the reaction today was Phillip Drath of San Rafael, peace candidate for the Democratic nomination in the Sixth Congressional District. "Thank God," he said of Johnson's decision, "and even more, thank God that he is stopping the bombing of North Vietnam. His administration has been a tragedy, and apparently he himself recognizes this," said Drath of Johnson.

The bells at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo were heard ringing for 10 minutes last night immediately after the President's announcement.

Vote On School Bonds Tomorrow

Voters in the Bolinas-Stinson School District will go to the polls tomorrow to vote on a $325,000 school construction bond issue.

The bonds are to build six classrooms, a library and administrative office, and to buy four acres for future expansion. The district voted down a $275,000 bond issue twice last year.

Polls at Stinson Beach and Bolinas Schools will be open from 7 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Bombing Halt Angers South Viet's Leaders

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnam's leaders today opposed the North Vietnam bombing pause called by President Johnson. The foreign minister said Saigon was not consulted.

A senator said he could not believe Johnson would "surrender" by choosing not to run for re-election.

In Wellington, N.Z., South Vietnam's foreign minister, Tran Van Do, said Washington did not consult his government before ordering the pause. He said it spoils military strategy.

Do also said that if the pause brings peace talks, South Vietnam would have to be the main negotiator. "It is our war... only in the conduct of the war do we have to work as equals with our allies," he said.

President Nguyen Van Thieu, who yesterday had said his nation would fight on alone if the United States pulled out of the war, declined to make immediate comment.

Thieu listened to Johnson's speech on the American armed forces network radio and then called for a copy of the remarks. He said he might hold a news conference tomorrow.

In the white-washed parliament building, senators said they could not believe what they heard. Sen. Nguyen Van Ngai, a Senate leader, said, "I haven't had a chance to find out whether this information is true or not."

Sen. Huynh Van Cao, another pro-government chief and a retired Army general, said, "I don't believe that is what President Johnson said. He is not the type to surrender."

King Will Return For New Marches

MEMPHIS, Aenn. (UPI) — Negro leaders announced today that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will return to this troubled city tomorrow and lead demonstrations "every day."

Police and National Guard troops maintained their vigil in Memphis and the Negro community prepared for the two-hour wake later today for a 16-year-old Negro killed by police in last week's rioting.

"We're worried, but what can you do about a funeral?" said Asst. Police Chief W. E. Routt.

Kuchel In Praise Of LBJ's 'Sacrifice'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., had this reaction to President Johnson's announcement that he will not seek nor accept renomination:

"His sacrifice establishes, as perhaps no other move he could have made, the credibility of the plans announced last night."

U.S. Jets, Ships Halt North Attacks

SAIGON (AP) — American bombers and warships halted their attacks on most of North Vietnam today, one day after strikes close to Hanoi, Haiphong and the Chinese border.

The cutback in the bombing ordered by President Johnson was the 10th curtailment in the air war against the Communist North since it began on Feb. 7, 1965.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters said the reduction in the bombing was in effect by the time the president began his television statement announcing it, at 10 a.m. Saigon time.

The U.S. Command said American fighter-bombers confined their attacks on North Vietnam today to the area just above the demilitarized zone, hitting enemy storage complexes, truck convoys and gun positions.

Only a few hours before, the U.S. Command announced that American planes yesterday attacked the Cat Bi airfield four miles southeast of the center of Haiphong, the radio communications station 10 miles southeast of Hanoi, a chemical plant 19 miles northeast of Haiphong, the Cam Pha coal area, 44 miles east-northeast of Haiphong, and the Lang Giai railyard, 18 miles below the Chinese border.

Johnson said his de-escalation order applied to "most" of North Vietnam's territory and an area containing almost 90 per cent of its population. This includes the Hanoi-Haiphong industrial heartland and the vital northeast and northwest railroad lines between Hanoi and Communist China.

The president said the bombing would continue "in the area north of the demilitarized zone where the continuing enemy buildup directly threatens Allied forward positions and where movements of troops and supplies are clearly related to that threat."

It was learned that U.S.

Tass Says It's A Political Move In World Mixed Reaction To LBJ

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

The world reacted with stunned amazement today to President Johnson's decision not to seek re-election. His decision to de-escalate the war in Vietnam brought joy to some nations and dismay and fears to others.

The official Soviet agency Tass suggested the decision not to run was only a political maneuver. And it scorned his partial bombing halt as not enough.

The agency, in the first Soviet reaction said his announced exit from politics may have been only a maneuver aimed at renomination and re-election.

It reacted negatively to the partial bombing cessation and said:

"By refusing to fully discontinue the barbaric bombing the United States continues to ignore the legitimate demands of the North Vietnamese government and world public opinion. . . ."

Peking and Hanoi remained silent for the time being but the Hong Kong Evening Post which takes its editorial cues from Peking called it a clear sign of American defeat in Vietnam.

The Vatican ignored the political angle as a U.S. domestic issue but hailed the de-escalation of the war and expressed hope it may lead to "sincere and honest" peace talks.

In London Prime Minister Harold Wilson called an urgent cabinet meeting to consider ways of carrying out Johnson's call for a new bid for peace.

Comment was bitter in Nationalist China, the most vociferously anti-Communist country in Asia. Kuo Teh-chuan, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said Johnson's actions "amounted to admitting that his Vietnam policy has been wrong.

Bitterly anti-Communist Thailand took a similar stand. But Philippines President Ferinand E. Marcos said Johnson will not be alone in "his noble, if painful, option—the passionate quest for an honorable peace."

Reaction probably was more intense in Asia than in Europe but Sweden, strongly critical of U.S. Vietnamese policies, issued an official government statement saying it hoped the de-escalation would be "the beginning of the end to this cruel war."

PRESIDENT LYNDON B. JOHNSON
As he appeared on television last night

Reaction was mixed in Australia which saw the broadcast live by satellite. The Sydney Sun called the decision a "noble thing." Former opposition Labor Party leader Arthour Calwell said "he (Johnson) could not possibly have won the war."

London—Wilson's government also hailed the bombing halt as a "further opportunity of achieving a just and honorable peace."

Other reactions:

Bangkok — Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn of Thailand said he fears Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's possible election as president. "If Sen. Kennedy wins, U.S. policy in Southeast Asia will change greatly and the free world nations of Southeast Asia will be left on their own."

Wellington — Prime Minister Keith Holyoke hailed the bombing pause as "the latest in a a long series of efforts by the U.S. government to explore every avenue which might lead to a peaceful settlement.

Canberra — Prime Minister John Gorton of Australia hailed the bombing pause as further proof of America's desire for peace.

Paris—Frenchmen heard the news at breakfast, and some said they thought at first it was an April Fool's Day joke. A bank employee said, "It could be the beginning of peace in Vietnam."

Copenhagen — Danish newspapers hailed the bombing pause and said they hope Hanoi would react.

Tokyo — The stock market plunged at first word from Johnson and then managed to recover most losses by the end of the day's trading.

Oslo—The newspaper Dagbladet said of Johnson's no-run decision, "If the American people begged him on their knees after he had obtained peace, would he then be able to say no?"

Defenses Urged

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (UPI) — The military advisers to the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today suggested that member nations meef up their defense forces to meet an increased threat from the Communists.

In a communique issued three days after their meeting Friday the advisers said the increase would be needed because of "continuing and widespread Communist subversion, insurgency and open aggression in the treaty area."

BOOSTS BOBBY'S HOPES

LBJ California Backers Left Without Candidate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — President Johnson's decision to withdraw from the 1968 election left his California supporters today without a candidate in the June primary and boosted the hopes of backers of Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy.

Everyone expressed surprise — a reaction that even extended into Republican ranks.

"I'm just sitting here stunned like the rest of the world," said Republican Gov. Reagan.

Another Republican, Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Max Rafferty, a candidate for the U.S. Senate, charged the President is trying "to build a groundswell of public opinion — ultimately hoping to build a draft Johnson movement."

The announcement struck with devastating force among the loyal Johnson Democrats who had bet their political futures on the President running for another term.

They had entered the primary with a delegation headed by Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, acting as a stand-in for the President.

Johnson's withdrawal left them without a champion, and was reminiscent of what happened to the party regulars in 1952. That year, then Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown planned to be a stand-in for President Harry Truman, and when Truman decided not to run, Brown had to carry on alone. The late U.S. Sen. Estes Kefauver ran away with the primary.

Brown, now the former governor and a leader of the pro-Johnson slate, said the delegation must "look around" for a candidate. "I don't know who it will be," he said.

Neither Brown nor Democratic National Committeeman Eugene Wyman would say whether their slate will back Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

"We've got to let the dust settle," said Wyman. Brown said "Mr. Humphrey is a very strong man but I am not ready to leave it with those three" — meaning Humphrey, Kennedy and McCarthy.

There was jubilation among the supporters of Senators Kennedy and McCarthy, who were opposing the pro-Johnson slate in what seemed to be a red-hot three-way race for California's 174 convention votes.

"McCarthy is emerging as the one man who can unify the country," said Gerald N. Hill, the Minnesota senator's California campaign co-chairman. McCarthy is due in the state this week to begin his primary campaign.

While most Democrats praised Johnson, Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty said Johnson's "offer to stop the bombing is reminiscent of Chamberlain's backdown to Hitler just prior to the start of World War II. It is obvious that the President is afraid of the Russians and has chickened out in the face of their threats and bluffs. This has been obvious to me in my many talks to him."

San Geronimo Valley Association has Stanley R. Frederick as president.

Asia Policy Stands: Rusk

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that President Johnson's decision not to run for re-election still leaves America committed in South Vietnam "and the United States is going to demonstrate its stability to its friends and allies."

Rusk, arriving for a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) meeting, told newsmen the President's order for a halt to bombing North Vietnam "is a chance for a fresh start."

"Now let's see what they do with it."

"Let's find out what Hanoi's reaction will be," he said.

When asked about Johnson's refusal to run for re-election, Rusk said, "You can be sure that the United States is there and the United States is going to demonstrate its stability...I would not put your bets on anything else."

Americans Hail Decision; Ask Will It Stick?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Americans generally agreed today that President Johnson made a personal sacrifice in stepping out of the presidential race. But some expressed doubt he would stick to the decision.

"The ultimate sacrifice for world peace," was the way Rep. Spark M. Matsunaga, D-Hawaii, a Johnson supporter, described it.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield summed up the biggest surprise of this season of political surprises when he told a New York audience this morning: "It's been a hell of a year."

Mansfield said the president's announcement "has to be taken at face value," but added: "A draft at the convention would change his mind."

William G. Kerr, Oklahoma Democratic state chairman, ufging a move to get Johnson back in the race, said:

'BEST QUALIFIED'

"He is the best qualified man in the world to be president of the United States. Our country needs him."

Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J., said he accepted the President's statement at face value "but I cannot conveive the president refusing a call to service from the Democratic Party if it comes."

Retired Army Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, a persistent critic of the President's Vietnam policy, said: "I hope he means it. I'm afraid that he doesn't — that he will accept a fair draft."

Republicans as well as Democrats praised the President's decision.

GOP Gov. Spiro A. Agnew of Maryland said: "I feel it's a sincerely motivated personal sacrifice and that the country should be appreciative of the sensitivity of the president to the awesome responsibility he carries."

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., one of the leading doves on Vietnam, called the decision "an act of a very great patriot."

WIRES RESPECT

Another critic of the war, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said: "I wired the president expressing my respect for his courage and recognition of the personal price he was willing to pay for peace."

The overwhelming congressional reaction was summed up by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.

"In such a grave and national doubt, the President has lifted the presidency to its proper place — far away from politics."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, like Javits a critic of Johnson's policies in Vietnam, said: "It was Lyndon Johnson's finest hour."

RESERVE CALL FOR LIMITED TROOP DUTY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson will call a limited number of reservists to active duty the next five months for service in Viet nam.

The President announced last night that the joint chiefs of staff recommended an additional 13,500 support troops be sent to Vietnam to bring certain units to "maximum combat effectiveness."

"A portion of these men will be made available from our active forces," Johnson said. "The balance will come from Reserve component units which will be called up for service."

McCarthy Is Cautious, But Not Backers

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's youthful volunteers reacted today as though they had driven President Johnson from the White House, but the Minnesota Democrat said any such conclusion would be unfair.

McCarthy also believed that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who has supported Johnson's war policies, would become a candidate.

McCarthy, now the only announced democratic contender in tomorrow's Wisconsin democratic presidential primary, said the New Hampshire primary and Wisconsin campaign showed that the "spirit of America is changing", and that this change was sensed by the President and by news media.

But he added he thought it would be "an unfair judgment" to conclude that Johnson withdrawal from the race last night was based on the probability McCarthy would defeat him in Wisconsin's primary.

McCarthy, after his initial shock when he learned at Carroll College in nearby Waukesha that Johnson had removed himself from the race, showed little outward emotion.

But he did say he got a "double satisfaction" from the announcement. He explained that it not only removed the chief obstacle in his campaign, but indicated his criticism of Johnson's Vietnam policy was gaining support.

In Indiana's primary, May 7, Johnson's decision not to run means there will be a first battle between McCarthy and New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. Indiana Gov. Roger Branigan, an administration stand-in, is without a candiate, and there was speculation that he might run on behalf of Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

Suspended Sentence

Rockefeller Silent On LBJ's Move

NEW YORK (AP) — A top-ranking aide to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said last night, "The governor has no immediate comment" on President Johnson's announcement that he will not seek re-election in November.

He stressed the word "immediate."

The source would not go so far as to say that Rockefeller may be reassessing the position he stated on March 21 when he said, "I have decided to reiterate unequivocally that I am not a candidate . . . for the presidency of the United States."

In spite of this disavowal, Rockefeller remains a factor in the contest for the GOP nomination for president. Draft-Rockefeller groups have not disbanded in the states where they organized before he stated his position.

GOP leaders expressed the opinion that, as one put it, "The favorite sons all over the country will be rethinking their positions now."

"Nobody knows yet who we're going to be battling in November," a Republican professional said. "I don't think it will be (Vice President Hubert) Humphrey. Bobby (Kennedy) would eat him for breakfast."

Richard M. Nixon is the acknowledged front-runner for the Republican nomination.

He said yesterday "Don't downgrade Vice President Humphrey."

On the basis of the New Hampshire primary, Nixon's aides said he, too, had drawn heavily from these same groups. His office issued an analysis of that election making two significant points. It said:

1. "A record number of independent voters chose the Republican ballot and cast their vote for Richard Nixon.

2. "Mr. Nixon received four times as many Democratic write-in votes as Bobby Kennedy."

Highlights Of LBJ's Address To Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Highlights of President Johnson's address to the nation:

"...I have concluded that I should not permit the presidency to become involved in the partisan divisions that are developing in this political year. With America's sons in the fields far away, with America's future under challenge right here at home, with our hopes and the world's hopes for peace in the balance every day, I do not believe that I should devote an hour or a day of my time to any personal partisan causes or to any duties other than the awesome duties of this office—the presidency of your country.

"Accordingly, I shall not seek, and I will not accept, the nomination of my party for another term as your president."

"In the hope that this action will lead to early (peace) talks, I am taking the first step to de-escalate the conflict ...I have ordered our aircraft and our naval vessels to make no attacks on North Vietnam except in the area north of the Demilitarized Zone where the continuing enemy buildup directly threatens allied forward positions....

"Even this very limited bombing of the North could come to an early end—if our restraint is matched by restraint in Hanoi...I call upon President Ho Chi Minh to respond positively and favorably to this new step toward peace."

"Some weeks ago—to help meet the enemy's new offensive—we sent to Vietnam about 11,000 additional Marine and airborne troops. They were deployed by air in 48 hours on an emergency basis. But the artillery, tank, aircraft and other units needed to work with and support these infantry troops in combat could not accompany them on that short notice.

"In order that these forces may reach maximum combat effectiveness, the Joint Chiefs of Staff have recommended to me that we should prepare to send—during the next five months — support troops totaling approximately 13,500 men. A portion of these men will be made available from our active forces. The balance will come from reserve component units which will be called up for service."

"The passage of a tax bill now, together with expenditure control that the Congress may desire and dictate, is absolutely necessary to protect this nation's security, to continue our prosperity, and to meet the needs of our people...I plead with the Congress to act promptly."

Fairfax Teen Killed In Yolo County Crash

A Marin youth was killed and three companions injured early Saturday when their car struck a power pole just south of Woodland in Yolo County.

The dead youth was Steven Norman Schaffer, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Schaffer of 25 Inyo Avenue, Fairfax.

Schaffer was in the right front seat when the car smashed into the pole, the California Highway Patrol reported. The driver, Larry Corbin, 19, of 562 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated for minor cuts and bruises at Yolo County General Hospital in Woodland.

Corbin said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel, the highway patrol reported. The four had left Marin about midnight to go frogging near Marysville. The accident happened at 1:50 a.m. on Highway 113.

STEVEN N. SCHAFFER
Killed in car crash

Also injured were Corbin's two brothers, who were in the rear seat. Donald, 10, wes reported in satisfactory condition today at the Yolo hospital with multiple fractures of both legs.

Dennis Corbin, 13, was transferred later Saturday to Marin General Hospital, where he was reported in fair condition today with a concussion.

Schaffer graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School in June, 1967, and was a fabricator with San Rafael Plastics Co. He was awaiting approval of an application to become a state park ranger, his mother reported.

all parties in Vietnam for a brief period of about two weeks to facilitate negotiations.

Stewart said he summoned Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Smirnovski for further talks later today on what Britain and Russia could do about the President's call to help towards peace in Southeast Asia.

Stewart said the British government believes the President's decision to scale down the Vietnam War "offers further opportunity of which all concerned should take advantage for achieving a just and honorable peace."

"Earlier today we were in touch with the Soviet government in the spirit of the communique of Jan. 24, at the end of the prime minister's (Harold Wilson's) visit to Moscow," Stewart said.

TALK

Johnson acknowledged that he has been a seeker of consensus.

"Yet along the way," he asserted, "I also learned that no leader can pursue public tranquility as his first goal. For a president to buy public popularity at the sacrifice of his best judgment is too dear a price. The nation cannot afford such a price or such a leader."

Johnson also alluded to his announcement yesterday of major curbs on bombing North Vietnam in the hope of spurring peace talks.

"I pray," he said, "that the message of peace I conveyed last night will be accepted in good faith by the leaders of North Vietnam."

"I pray that one night soon, the evening news will show — not another battle in the scarred hills of Vietnam — but men entering a room to talk about peace in Vietnam," he said.

WAR

planes also will continue reconnaissance and aerial photographic missions all over North Vietnam, including the Red River Valley area from Hanoi to the Chinese border.

In addition to the bombing cutback, the Air Force got another setback over the weekend. Qualified informants said the newest weapon in America's air arsenal, the F111 fighter-bomber, has been grounded from missions in Vietnam while an investigation is made into the loss of two of the $6 million planes during their first week of combat.

The U.S. 7th Air Force refused to comment on North Vietnam's claim that its forces shot down both planes.

In ground fighting, Viet Cong forces broke through Marine and South Vietnamese defenses about 15 miles southeast of Hue yesterday and blasted two key bridges on the allies' main supply highway to South Vietnam's northern frontier.

Nine Viet Cong soldiers and 14 Marines were reported killed and 30 Marines wounded in a 40-minute exchange of machine-gun and mortar fire and grenades at the two bridges over the Truoi River. South Vietnamese casualties were reported light.

shaken by Johnson's announcement of a bombing pause in Vietnam and his "irrevocable" decision not to run again, praised the president.

Johnson told reporters after last night's speech that any announcement of his choice for a successor would come when he deemed it timely.

With Kennedy and McCarthy campaigning hard for Democratic National Convention delegates, Humphrey obviously must make a decision quickly whether to seek the nomination.

Turning aside from personal ambition, the 59-year-old Johnson told an impromptu news conference after his 41-minute radio and television address: "I would hope that by what I did tonight, we can concentrate more of our energies on trying to bring about peace in the world and that we would have a better chance to do it."

The chief executive's eyes were red-rimmed and his voice appeared to break as he told the nation and the world of his decision to step down at the end of his current term.

He recalled the day 52 months ago when he assumed the presidency upon the assassination of John F. Kennedy, and he quoted from the late president's inaugural address that "this generation of Americans is willing to pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe, to assure the survival and the success of liberty."

"We have kept that compact," Johnson said, tears welling in his eyes. "I shall continue to keep it, whatever the trials and tests ahead. The strength of this country will lie...in the unity of our people."

The president's decision was a well kept secret from all but his most intimate associates. Significantly, the only cabinet member standing by in Johnson's White House office during the speech was Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford, a friend and advisor since the president's congressional days.

Johnson informed Humphrey of his decision not to run during a brief visit to the vice president's apartment shortly before Humphrey's departure for Mexico City early yesterday. Later Humphrey said it was no surprise to him.

There seemed little doubt that, if Johnson chose to play the role of kingmaker at the August convention, it would be Humphrey who would receive his blessing and considerable support.

Johnson's family was with him in the Oval Room office as he delivered his address. Their eyes were fixed on him during the speech, anticipating the announcement they knew was coming. Only at the end did they smile for him.

The president's historic statement was not included in the prepared text of the speech distributed to newsmen about 90 minutes before he went on the air.

"I have concluded that I should not permit the presidency to become involved in the partisan divisions that are developing in this political year," Johnson said slowly and emphatically. He wiped at his eyes and his forehead.

"With America's sons in the field far away, with America's future under challenge here at home, with our hopes—and the world's hopes—for peace in the balance every day, I do not believe that I should devote an hour of my time to any personal partisan causes or to any duties other than the awesome duties of this office.

"Accordingly, I shall not seek and will not accept the nomination of my party for another term as your president," he said.

Mrs. Johnson rushed to his side and threw her arms around him as he rose from his chair behind the huge mahogany desk. Lynda, who had returned to the White House only hours before after seeing her husband off to Vietnam, followed with a hug and a kiss. So did Luci.

"Tonight I have offered the first in what I hope will be a series of mutual moves toward peace," the president said, and he outlined these further steps:

Plans to send an additional 13,500 troops to Vietnam in the next five months.

The Administration said today that perhaps in excess of 50,000 reservists will be called in the months ahead. The first call-up in the next three days will supply 13,500 troops to support others in Vietnam.

A request to Congress for $5.1 billion in addition to sums already appropriated or requested to pay for armaments. Of that sum, $2.5 billion would be for the current fiscal year and $2.6 billion for the fiscal year that starts July 1.

A call to Britain and the Soviet Union, as cochairmen of the 1954 Geneva Conference, "to do all they can to move from the unilateral act of deescolation I have just announced toward genuine peace in Southeast Asia."

The designation of veteran U.S. diplomats W. Averell Harriman to discuss the means of bringing this war to an end."

A Marin youth was killed and three companions injured early Saturday when their car struck a power pole just south of Woodland in Yolo County.

The dead youth was Steven Norman Schaffer, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Schaffer of 25 Inyo Avenue, Fairfax.

Schaffer was in the right front seat when the car smashed into the pole, the California Highway Patrol reported. The driver, Larry Corbin, 19, of 562 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated for minor cuts and bruises at Yolo County General Hospital in Woodland.

Corbin said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel, the highway patrol reported. The four had left Marin about midnight to go frogging near Marysville. The accident happened at 1:50 a.m. on Highway 113.

Also injured were Corbin's two brothers, who were in the rear seat. Donald, 10, wes reported in satisfactory condition today at the Yolo hospital with multiple fractures of both legs.

all parties in Vietnam for a brief period of about two weeks to facilitate negotiations.

Stewart said he summoned Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Smirnovski for further talks later today on what Britain and Russia could do about the President's call to help towards peace in Southeast Asia.

Stewart said the British government believes the President's decision to scale down the Vietnam War "offers further opportunity of which all concerned should take advantage for achieving a just and honorable peace."

"Earlier today we were in touch with the Soviet government in the spirit of the communique of Jan. 24, at the end of the prime minister's (Harold Wilson's) visit to Moscow," Stewart said.

Johnson acknowledged that he has been a seeker of consensus.

"Yet along the way," he asserted, "I also learned that no leader can pursue public tranquility as his first goal. For a president to buy public popularity at the sacrifice of his best judgment is too dear a price. The nation cannot afford such a price or such a leader."

Johnson also alluded to his announcement yesterday of major curbs on bombing North Vietnam in the hope of spurring peace talks.

"I pray," he said, "that the message of peace I conveyed last night will be accepted in good faith by the leaders of North Vietnam."

"I pray that one night soon, the evening news will show — not another battle in the scarred hills of Vietnam — but men entering a room to talk about peace in Vietnam," he said.

planes also will continue reconnaissance and aerial photographic missions all over North Vietnam, including the Red River Valley area from Hanoi to the Chinese border.

In addition to the bombing cutback, the Air Force got another setback over the weekend. Qualified informants said the newest weapon in America's air arsenal, the F111 fighter-bomber, has been grounded from missions in Vietnam while an investigation is made into the loss of two of the $6 million planes during their first week of combat.

The U.S. 7th Air Force refused to comment on North Vietnam's claim that its forces shot down both planes.

In ground fighting, Viet Cong forces broke through Marine and South Vietnamese defenses about 15 miles southeast of Hue yesterday and blasted two key bridges on the allies' main supply highway to South Vietnam's northern frontier.

Nine Viet Cong soldiers and 14 Marines were reported killed and 30 Marines wounded in a 40-minute exchange of machine-gun and mortar fire and grenades at the two bridges over the Truoi River. South Vietnamese casualties were reported light.

UNHURT AS PLANE CRASH LANDS

Larry B. Fotchman (left) of San Rafael takes a dim view of all that remains of his Piper J-3 plane. The newly rebuilt aircraft began to lose power aloft Saturday and was totaled when Fotchman, an engineer with Pacific Gas and Electric Co., crashed-landed it in a field north of Petaluma Creek near Black Point. shaken by Johnson's announcement of a bombing pause in Vietnam and his "irrevocable" decision not to run again, praised the president.

Johnson told reporters after last night's speech that any announcement of his choice for a successor would come when he deemed it timely.

With Kennedy and McCarthy campaigning hard for Democratic National Convention delegates, Humphrey obviously must make a decision quickly whether to seek the nomination.

Turning aside from personal ambition, the 59-year-old Johnson told an impromptu news conference after his 41-minute radio and television address: "I would hope that by what I did tonight, we can concentrate more of our energies on trying to bring about peace in the world and that we would have a better chance to do it."

The chief executive's eyes were red-rimmed and his voice appeared to break as he told the nation and the world of his decision to step down at the end of his current term.

He recalled the day 52 months ago when he assumed the presidency upon the assassination of John F. Kennedy, and he quoted from the late president's inaugural address that "this generation of Americans is willing to pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe, to assure the survival and the success of liberty."

"We have kept that compact," Johnson said, tears welling in his eyes. "I shall continue to keep it, whatever the trials and tests ahead. The strength of this country will lie...in the unity of our people."

The president's decision was a well kept secret from all but his most intimate associates. Significantly, the only cabinet member standing by in Johnson's White House office during the speech was Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford, a friend and advisor since the president's congressional days.

Johnson informed Humphrey of his decision not to run during a brief visit to the vice president's apartment shortly before Humphrey's departure for Mexico City early yesterday. Later Humphrey said it was no surprise to him.

There seemed little doubt that, if Johnson chose to play the role of kingmaker at the August convention, it would be Humphrey who would receive his blessing and considerable support.

Johnson's family was with him in the Oval Room office as he delivered his address. Their eyes were fixed on him during the speech, anticipating the announcement they knew was coming. Only at the end did they smile for him.

The president's historic statement was not included in the prepared text of the speech distributed to newsmen about 90 minutes before he went on the air.

"I have concluded that I should not permit the presidency to become involved in the partisan divisions that are developing in this political year," Johnson said slowly and emphatically. He wiped at his eyes and his forehead.

"With America's sons in the field far away, with America's future under challenge here at home, with our hopes—and the world's hopes—for peace in the balance every day, I do not believe that I should devote an hour of my time to any personal partisan causes or to any duties other than the awesome duties of this office.

"Accordingly, I shall not seek and will not accept the nomination of my party for another term as your president," he said.

Mrs. Johnson rushed to his side and threw her arms around him as he rose from his chair behind the huge mahogany desk. Lynda, who had returned to the White House only hours before after seeing her husband off to Vietnam, followed with a hug and a kiss. So did Luci.

"Tonight I have offered the first in what I hope will be a series of mutual moves toward peace," the president said, and he outlined these further steps:

Plans to send an additional 13,500 troops to Vietnam in the next five months.

The Administration said today that perhaps in excess of 50,000 reservists will be called in the months ahead. The first call-up in the next three days will supply 13,500 troops to support others in Vietnam.

A request to Congress for $5.1 billion in addition to sums already appropriated or requested to pay for armaments. Of that sum, $2.5 billion would be for the current fiscal year and $2.6 billion for the fiscal year that starts July 1.

A call to Britain and the Soviet Union, as cochairmen of the 1954 Geneva Conference, "to do all they can to move from the unilateral act of de-escolation I have just announced toward genuine peace in Southeast Asia."

The designation of veteran U.S. diplomats W. Averell Harriman to discuss the means of bringing this war to an end."

Apartment House Complex Given Plan Review Nod

The plan for a 54-unit apartment complex on the north side of Ignacio Boulevard near Alameda De La Loma was approved for Bowler and Waltz by the Novato Plan Review Committee, last Friday night, according to Warren Baker, assistant planner.

The committee also approved the plans for a 185-bed convalescent hospital to be constructed at Hill and Indian Valley roads by Novato Investments, Baker said.

Plans for the addition of a loading platform and canopy for the old McAfee department store being remodeled into a post office were also approved for Robert Nave, according to Baker.

The committee approved the lighting and landscaping plans for the Denny's restaurant on Highway 101 south of Grant Avenue, Baker said. The committee will report to the planning commission at the latter's meeting next Monday that it feels the plans for Denney's sign call for it to be too high and too big, Baker said.

Injuries Minor In Crash On Saturday

Stuart Glenn Anderson, 23, of 163 Bothin Road, Fairfax, suffered forehead cuts when his car skidded off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, a half mile east of the entrance to the Point Reyes National Seashore at 5:15 p.m. Saturday.

The California Highway Patrol reported that Anderson was traveling east when his car swerved onto the shoulder of the road. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

$50,000 Seal Goal Reached

The unofficial goal of the Christmas Seal campaign — $50,000 — has been reached, according to Edward W. Bullard Jr., campaign chairman for the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Association. The campaign closed March 31.

"Thanks to the generous support of thousands of Marin residents, the association will be able to continue its programs to upgrade the health of the community," said Bullard.

One of the newest programs, he said, is the Respiratory Disease Outpatient Clinic, jointly operated with Marin General Hospital, to aid sufferers of emphysema, bronchitis and asthma.

Bullard said 85 per cent of all Christmas Seal contributions will remain in the county.

Novato Sanitary Merger On Tap

The committee studying the possible merger of the Novato Sanitary District with either the city of Novato or the North Marin County Water District will meet at noon tomorrow at the Tiburon Lodge at 1651 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon according to chairman Thomas D. Hardcastle.

The committee will sudy the draft of the merger report, Hardcastle said.

Horse Thieves Reported Active

Horse thieves were active near Marinwood yesterday.

San Rafael police reported Sarah Alice Magee of 758 Appleberry Road said a 9-year-old mare was missing from her pasture at a ranch just west of Mont Marin the old Lucas Valley Road. The mare was valued at $300.

At about the same time, Sidney Henry Huff of 1345 Idleberry Road reported to police the theft of a $200 Shetland pony from the same location.

Police and the owners searched the immediate area without success.

Wave Nearly Drowns Woman, 23

A 23-year-old San Francisco woman nearly drowned and was heavily bruised Saturday when she was swept off rocks by a wave at McClure's Beach.

Injured was Mary Ellen Miller of 2186 Vallejo Street, who was taken to Marin General Hospital where she was reported in good condition today.

County Fire Chief Louis Bloom reported that she was given first aid by Ranger William Burke of the Point Reyes National Seashore after being sewpt off the rocks shortly after 4 p.m.

Richard Hughes, a young man in his 20s visiting in San Francisco from Pennsylvania, pulled her out of the water.

County firemen Peter Valconesi and William Dilena of the rescue crew carried her by stretcher from the beach along the trail to the parking lot, a distance of about half a mile, the chief reported.

The ambulance arrived at 4:29 and left at 4:55 p.m., he said. Enroute to the hospital they administered oxygen because she was having difficulty breathing, the cheif reported.

The hospital reported her injuries as "near drowning' and multiple bruises of both legs.

Hip Fractured In Auto Crash

A Mill Valley woman suffered a fractured left hip at 4:15 p.m. yesterday when the car in which she was riding skidded off a curve on Strawberry Point and rolled over.

Linda La Balm, 20, of 384-A Miller Avenue, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital.

The impact threw her from the car driven by James W. Tamburini, 20, of 295 Union Street, San Rafael, east of Seminary Drive on a road in the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary grounds.

Straight-Line Span Approved For Island

The proposed bridge to Santa Venetia Island will be aligned on a straight line with existing Meadow Drive, the Marin County planning commissioners decided today.

On a motion by Niels Schultz Jr., the commissioners unanimously approved a straight approach, with the bridge understructure no less than 10 feet above mean lower low water. The bridge will have two 12-foot lanes, with a four foot sidewalk.

Hector Rubini of San Rafael and Guido Farina of San Anselmo will build the span to connect Meadow Drive in Santa Venetia with the four-acre island in Gallinas Creek. The developers plan resort facilities on the island, including boating berths and perhaps a hotel.

The planning commissioners rejected a proposal by Rubini that the Meadow Drive approach to the bridge be curved so that the span would cross the channel at right angles.

Michael King, assistant director of public works, objected to the curve as a traffic hazard.

Bryan R. McCarthy, attorney for the developers, stipulated that approval of the bridge in no way implies approval of any of the plans for the development of the island.

Clues Are Slim In Slaying Of Teen-Age Girl

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Clues remained slim today as police continued their investigation of the slaying of teen-ager Linda Harmon.

Evidence apparently consisted only of fragments of a vase, apparently used as a weapon, and a blood-stained carving fork, with which Linda, 14, had been stabbed.

Blood led away from the house where Linda had been baby sitting with two small sons of a neighbor on Sunnydale Avenue.

Linda's mother, Barbara Harmon, said she had gone to the house earlier and Linda had unchained the door to let her in. Leaving, Mrs. Harmon said she heard Linda replace the chain.

The door was unchained when the body was discovered early Saturday morning.

Police said, "We assume her attacker was someone she knew, or she would not have unchained the door."

The possibility of sexual attack remained to be determined by laboratory tests.

Shampooed hair requires rinsing. . .
Shampooed carpets need rinsing too!

Ladies . . . . Would you ever think of shampooing your lovely hair without thoroughly rinsing it? Naturally not! Suppose we apply the same question to the cleaning of wall-to-wall carpeting in our homes.

Are you aware of the fact that the brush/shampoo method of carpet cleaning fails to remove the soil and detergent residue from your carpet because there is no rinsing?

. . . . That the scrubbing action of the shampooing machine actually weakens carpet fibers? . . . . That the dirt particles which are scrubbed deeper into the carpet act as an abrasive cutting agent on the carpet fibers, thus shortening carpet life?

But since carpet does require cleaning, what choice do you have? Until recently there was no effective way to extract soil and detergent residue from wall-to-wall carpet. The revolutionary new DEEP STEAM CLEAN EXTRACTION process applies, under controlled pressure, a cleaning agent with soil retardant, deep into the carpet fibers. Soil particles are flushed away from the fibers and held momentarily in suspension. Instantly, a powerful vacuuming action extracts the suspended soil into a sealed stainless steel container.

Use Deep Steam Carpet Cleaning and give your expensive carpet the proper care it deserves.

"Soil extracted, not scrubbed deeper . . . . That's the difference!"

Future Obligations Of College Outlined

Regional planning will result in development of more dynamic, community-oriented vocationai and technical education programs, and audience of 110 advisers to College of Marin were told Saturday at an honorary breakfast at the College Center.

Addressing the advisers to the college's career programs was Elizabeth M. Deedy, president of the college board of trustees.

These mainstream programs of the junior colleges after many years are now being looked at from this broader, regional viewpoint, she said. The challenge is to provide programs that will benefit the young, the middle-aged and even the older people, equipping them with skills in order that they might serve as a part of the working force, therefore giving them new feelings of integrity.

NEW OBLIGATIONS

"We are no longer a pretty little college nestled at the foot of Mount Tamalpais," she said. We are now a part of a state system with a statewide governing board that will begin making directives in a short time. She said she felt this was a good move, especially if the board could work harmoniously in coordinating and planning.

Dale A. Fleming, director of planning and reserach at the college told of the college's plans for a $1.4 million science center that would house life sciences, physical sciences, engineering and mathematics. State aid will be sought for a large share of the finaincing of this building.

Construction is expected to start late this year, he said, with more than 32,000 square feet of spae for 15 laboratory stations for 299 students, five lecture classrooms for 217 student stations, and 30 faculty offices. A computer center will be located in the building, he said.

A site for construction of a planetarium will be preserved in the immediate area of the science center, he added.

ADVISERS ATTEND

Lay people attending the breakfast serve as advisers to College of Marin's career programs that terminate in one or two years and take the student directly into employment in the community.

The committees represented were: automotive technology, business and finance, citizens finance, community services, electronics technology, fire science, health services, home economics, machine and metals technology, nursery school teacher aide, office occupations, police science, real estate, registered and vocational nursing and dental assisting.

Joint apprenticeships included the carpenters, machinist, operating engineers, painting and decorating, plumbers and automotice apprenticeship programs.

Reds Free Two American Women

SAIGON (UPI)—The Communists released two American women today 52 days after their capture during the battle for Hue.

A U.S. Mission spokesman said Dr. Majorie Nelson, 29, of Kokomo, Ind., and Sandra Johnson, 25, of Clio, Mich., had been freed near Hue and "are now in American hands."

The spokesman would not disclose where the two women were, but said they were undergoing physical examinations and appeared to be in good health.

Defective Tail Light Leads To Arrest Of Drug Suspects

John S. Gonzales, 20, of Berkeley, and Linda S. Revoir, 25, of 69 Olive Avenue, San Anselmo, were booked at the county jail today on suspicion of possession of marijuana after being stopped in a car with a defective tail-light by a sheriff's deputy.

Deputy John O. Goff reported he stopped the eastbound car on Tiburon Boulevard near Alto at 2:45 a.m. Gonzales, a passenger jumped out and looked under the front seat, so Goff shone his flashlight in and saw what appeared to be marijuana seeds on the floor, he said.

He also reported finding in the car a bottle of amobarital tablets, and what appeared to be a maijuana "roach" cigarette. In the woman's purse, he found a yellow pill and in the man's pocket yellow pills and a white one which Gonzales claimed were for his asthma.

Both were set to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

The 4 new cars hurtle around a "walled-in" turn at the Mercedes-Benz test track. Here, centrifugal force can triple the weight of the car—a brutal test of the suspension. Come test one of the new models yourself (dealer's address below).

Announcing 4 defiantly "over-engineered" cars from Mercedes-Benz.

An automotive expert previewed the 4 new Mercedes-Benz motor cars in our picture.

His sum-up: "Over-engineered."

He was right. By most standards, these Mercedes-Benz motor cars are "over-engineered." They go far beyond the requirements of conventional automotive engineering.

Example: Every one of the 4 new Mercedes-Benz cars has power disc brakes on all 4 wheels. The same braking system used on 180-mph Grand Prix racing cars. Some critics would say this is too much of a good thing—needless in most driving situations. Mercedes-Benz engineers say, "Nonsense. Caliper-type disc brakes have proved, in test after test, that they provide the most precise braking possible—at all speeds. Put them wherever you've got a wheel."

Incidentally, Mercedes-Benz doesn't believe in naming its cars after animals, fish, and miscellaneous wildlife. After all, a car is a machine. It shouldn't sound like it belongs in a zoo. The names of the four new Mercedes-Benz models (the 250, the 230, the 220 Diesel, and the 220) simply indicate engine size. The 250, for example, displaces 2.5 liters.

What "over-engineering" means to you.

"Over-engineering" isn't a jazzy, hoked-up advertising phrase. It has meaning for anybody who's ever been dismayed by the lack of genuine engineering and craftsmanship in a contemporary motor car. It has meaning for anybody who's ever driven a car with mushy steering, lazy brakes, annoying rattles, and seats that leave you feeling like you took a long spin in a cement mixer.

"Over-engineering" is reflective of a basic Mercedes-Benz attitude, best expressed by Automobile Quarterly Magazine: "The prime concern of Mercedes-Benz has always been engineering—not styling, or sales, or what the rest of the industry is doing."

"Over-engineering" makes the new line of Mercedes-Benz cars handle differently, steer differently, brake differently than any conventional automobile on the market. They are, in fact, decidedly *un*conventional motor cars. Here are some facts to prove it:

• Unitized Body and Chassis. Most conventional automobiles have a separate body and chassis, held together with bolts. After a while, the bolts can work loose and rattle. On a rough road, the racket can be deafening.

Mercedes-Benz engineers insist that their cars deliver rattle-free performance. That's why the body is welded to the chassis with 10,000 individual welds. The result: a single structure of immense strength and rigidity. After 50,000 miles or so, you may begin to wonder if your Mercedes-Benz will ever rattle.

• Independent Suspension. On some cars, you get an alarming sensation if you brake or accelerate suddenly on a washboard road. The rear wheels shudder, and the whole car shakes violently. This can happen if the car has a conventional rigid "beam" axle.

The 250 goes where you aim it, even on hairpin turns.

Mercedes-Benz engineers patented an all-independent suspension that gives each wheel the freedom to move up and down without disturbing the others. On a washboard road, the suspension is soft enough to smother road jolts. On a tight curve, it's firm enough to fight body sway.

This unique suspension system is one of 5,200 basic engineering patents held by Mercedes-Benz.

• "Fatigue-proof" seats. Take a day-long trip in some cars and you'll come out feeling like a damp washrag. Those seats that felt so good at first turned out to be too soft in the long run.

A word about that word "Announcing"

Mercedes-Benz does not announce new models very often. There are no annual model change-overs. And "planned obsolescence" has never been part of the Mercedes-Benz philosophy. Nor will it be (the engineers are pretty defiant about that, too).

When a new model is introduced, it is only when significant engineering advances can be most fully realized by designing an entirely new car.

Even then, new models are not introduced to meet the frantic schedules of the "announcement season." They are put on the market when Mercedes-Benz engineers say the cars are ready—not a day sooner.

For these 4 new models, the engineers spent 5 years making sure—from drawing board to the test track to the dealer's showrooms today. The wait is worth it. These are the best automobiles Mercedes-Benz has ever built.

Mercedes-Benz cars are built to be as comfortable as they are roadworthy. Orthopedic physicians were called in to help design the seats so that you'll have proper back support on cross-country tours as well as short hops to the shopping center. When you slip into one of these carefully contoured seats, it will feel firm at first, but once you get used to it, you'll never settle for "marshmallow" seats again.

Mercedes-Benz engineers have respect for your backbone.

• Indefatigable engines. If it was possible to cruise for hours in your car at full throttle, what do you think would happen? You'd probably reduce the motor to a smoking ruin.

Mercedes-Benz engines are designed to cruise at full throttle all day long, because on the wide-open highways of Europe, they often do! The engine of every Mercedes-Benz automobile is assembled to aircraft tolerances. The bearings, for instance, are machined to 4/10,000ths of an inch—about one-eighth the size of a human hair.

To help you decide.

The only way to appreciate Mercedes-Benz features and philosophy of "over-engineering" is to take a demonstration drive.

Here's a fact-capsule on each of the four new cars, to help you decide which one you'd like to test drive:

The 250: "A 3,000-pound sedan with the handling ability of a sports car."

The 250 is the premier model of the new Mercedes-Benz motor cars. Top speed of the 250 is comparable to a standard V-8, yet its fuel economy is that of a Six. Its outside dimensions are close to a domestic compact, but inside measurements are nearer to those of a full-size luxury car. "Over-engineering" makes it worth every penny of its $5,150.*

The 230: " For those who want superb engineering in a modestly priced car."

The 230's engine is a little smaller, simpler, and less powerful than the 250's, but its overhead camshaft engine still squeezes power and economy from every drop of gas. If you like the 250 but don't demand its highly sophisticated engine, you could pocket a tidy saving. The 230's price is a modest $4,631.*

The 220 Diesel: "So economical, it doesn't even use gasoline."

This is the one car in the Mercedes-Benz line that runs on Diesel fuel. The sturdy Diesel engine does away with carburetors, spark plugs and other paraphernalia of the conventional gasoline engine, yet has enough power to cruise at 80 mph (where the law allows). The 220 Diesel is more expensive than conventional economy cars, yet it could save you more money in the long run (say, 100,000 miles or more) than the flimsiest little economy car you could buy. Price: $4,580.*

The 220: "For people who are diffident about Diesels."

The 220 is exactly the same car as the 220 Diesel except that it does not have a Diesel engine. The 220 has a ruggedly powerful engine that sips gasoline at a miserly rate. Price: $4,446.*

Take a test drive

We invite you to test drive these models yourself. Right now, they are on display in our showroom—ready for your inspection. Kick the tires. Slam the door. Raise the hood. Get behind the wheel. Then make your own decision about "over-engineering." You'll probably find it boils down to this: "Do you want more engineering than most cars offer you these days? Do you want a car that's built to run long after 'planned obsolescence' has antiquated conventional cars? Do you want a car that has more in reserve than you may ever need?"

If that proposition sounds interesting, come in today—and see 4 new motor cars that were "built to be the best, not the best seller."

Supervisors Planning Grand Jury Replay

A letter spelling out the Marin County Board of Supervisors' reply to the 1967 Grand Jury report on county government will be reviewed tomorrow by the supervisors.

The board will meet at the Civic Center at 11 a.m. and is scheduled to discuss the draft letter as the first order of business.

The letter, to be sent to Judge Joseph G. Wilson, presiding judge of Marin Superior Court, was prepared by Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen as a result of comments made by supervisors last week.

Before the start of the meeting, the supervisors will hold a workshop session with the parks and recreation commission at 9 a.m. in Room 400-B.

Commission resolutions urging acquisition of China Camp as a memorial to the late Caroline S. Livermore and possible formation of a land acquisition fund will be discussed.

Also at their regular meeting, supervisors will discuss San Francisco's commuter tax proposal at about 11:30 a.m. and will report on their meeting with Mayor Joseph Alioto of San Francisco scheduled for today.

At 2 p.m., the board will discuss a report on the feasibility of a balanced transportation system. The planning department has prepared the report on board instructions.

A hearing on an amendment to the Marinwood master plan calling for changes in certain designations is to come up at 3 p.m. followed by a hearing on proposed consolidation of the Bolinas Community Public Utility District and Bolinas Fire Protection District.

Jewelry Taken From Tiburon Home

About $800 in jewelry has been stolen from a Tiburon home, and a residence in Kentfield and one in Kent Woodlands also have been entered by burglars, the sheriff's office reported.

Ernestine Wertheimer of 4930 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, told deputies that the jewelry was contained in a box which she last saw Jan. 21. She reported the theft Wednesday.

Elsewhere, Elaine A. Romano of 399 Crown Road, Kent Woodlands, told deputies that someone broke into her home through a window Wednesday and took a transistor radio, electric typewriter, television set, two table cigarette lighters, a silver napkin ring and a candelabra.

Reported taken from the home of Gus Neiberholtzer of 32 Toussin Avenue, Kentfield, on Thursday were clothing and jewelry. A passerby said he saw a man carrying a filled pillowcase from the home, get into a car, and drive off with a companion.

Fire Zone Boundary Will Remain Same

The San Rafael Fire Commission recommended Thursday that the eastern boundary of fire zone No. 1 remain at Irwin Street and not be moved to Lincoln Avenue after discussion with Fire Chief Vance Trivett and Chief Building Inspector Jack Coates.

Possibility of reducing the area for the zone which has the highest fire code requirements because it's a commercial area, had been discussed by the city council.

Trial Date Due In Soldier's Death

A 28-year-old San Francisco man is scheduled to appear April 11 in San Francisco Superior Court to receive a trial date on a charge connected with the Dec. 22 death of a Noavto soldier.

Floyd Richard has pleaded innocent to a charge of involuntary manslaughter, brought after the pistol of Patrolman Norbert D. Gutierrez went off during a fracas, killing Sp/4 Harry J. Smiley, 19.

Richard also has pleaded not guilty to a charge of marijuana possession before Superior Court Judge Harry J. Neubarth.

Guilty Plea In Joyriding Charge

Herbert George Moldt, 62, of Petaluma, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court Friday to a misdemeanor charge of joyriding in a car he did not own. His case was continued until April 26 for sentencing.

Moldt was originally charged with stealing the auto he rented from DeLong Chevrolet June 22.

CREA Will Not Join Open Housing Battle

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — In a surprise move, the California Real Estate Association has decided not to join an effort to repeal the Rumford Open Housing Act at this time.

At a meeting Saturday, the CREA board of directors said their group would support instead a measure that would set up a state Fair Housing Commission.

The legislation, already introduced by Sen. Lawrence E. Walsh, D-Huntington Park, would empower the commission to investigate alleged discrimination in rental and sale of housing.

HEARING SET

Through conferences, conciliation and persuasion, the commission would seek to eliminate discrimination, rather than relying on penalty actions.

The measure has been scheduled for a public hearing Wednesday before the Senate governmental efficiency committee.

President Robert W. Karpe of the CREA said the group would back the bill "since we do not feel we can in good conscience support repeal of the Rumford Act which in no way offers an alternative plan."

Karpe of Bakersfield said Californians have shown through their overwhelming vote to repeal the Rumford act their sentiments.

VOTE TO REPEAL

The vote to repeal was 2-to-1, but the state Supreme Court later ruled the proposition to strike the act from the statutes was unconstitutional.

"Inasmuch as this had been before the people, we now feel it is the responsibility of the legislature to act on this subject as expressed by the people," Karpe said.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has said he would support extensive modification of the Rumford act.

The 46,000-member CREA said it would support legislative measures for property tax relief, but if lawmakers could not agree on a method, the group then would back one of three initiative petitions.

MARKET VALUE

One of the initiatives would abolish the tax except to raise funds to retire state indebtedness. The other two would put a ceiling on property taxes ranging from 1 to 2.2 per cent of the property's fair market value.

Bircher Rejects Any Higher Office Bid By Reagan

Gov. Ronald Reagan should not run for higher office "until he learns to reconcile what he does with what he says," a Republican state senator from Orange County declared Friday at Dominican College in San Rafael.

Sen. John G. Schmitz spoke to about 30 members of the college Young Republicans in Pennafort Hall. Marianna Johansen, president of the Young Republicans, introduced the senator.

Ellen Mintz, publicity chairman for the college group, said the senator described Reagan as "conservative but not conservative enough."

Miss Mintz said the senator referred to the governor's announced budget cuts as one area in which the governor has failed to accomplish what he promised.

Schmitz is a member of the John Birch Society and an instructor at Santa Ana College.

Novato Parks Annual Review Due Monday

The Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission will make its annual review of the parks and recreation master plan at 8 p.m. today in the community house.

It will also receive the monthly report from Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director.

Queen Candidate Date April 25

Candidates for San Rafael Kiwanis Club Rodeo queen must apply by April 25, Kiwanis President William Eckhoff announced today.

Any girl between 9 and 18 is eligible. Candidates should contact Richard Zoellner, chairman of the queen contest committee.

Horsemanship activities such as walking, loping, galloping, sliding stop, backwards, forward and other trail tests will determine the winner.

The queen contest will be held May 5 at 10:30 a.m. at the Circle V Ranch in Fairfax, just east of White's Hill.

The rodeo will be June 2 at Smith Brothers Ranch in Fairfax, co-chairmen W. P. (Doc) Duhamel and Ralph Priestley announced.

AND HE HAD JUST A SCRATCH

Edward Clyde Farr, 32, of 424 Calle Arboleda, Novato, escaped with a scratched forehead Saturday at 7:30 p.m. when his car crashed into a v-shaped median barrier on Highway 101 at Hamilton Air Force Base. The steel guard rail pierced his car and came out the back window. Farr told the California Highway Patrol he fell asleep. His wife and children were following in a second car, and were distraught—until officers convinced them Farr's injury was minor. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Sausalito To Discuss War

The Sausalito City Council will take up the Vietnam War tomorrow.

The council will consider a planning commission recommendation that a resolution be put on the June 4 ballot calling for a withdrawal from the present U.S. position in Vietnam, and another recommendation that the council pass a resolution calling for the withdrawal.

A resolution has been prepared to call a special election on the Vietnam proposition, which planning commissioner Roy Starbird introduced.

The council will meet at 8 p.m. in city hall.

Minor Injuries To Trio In Three Hub Accidents

Three persons were injured in three separate traffic accidents yesterday, San Anselmo police reported today.

Patrick Francis Bailey, 48, of 100 Wessen Lane, Fairfax, suffered multiple cuts and bruises when he lost control of his motorcycle and fell on Berkeley Avenue at Broadmoor Avenue about 3:30 p.m.

Police said his vehicle apparently struck loose gravel. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Ruby Sprague, 38, of Modesto, suffered a possible back injury when a car in which she was riding, driven by Robert Eugene Sprague, 41, of Modesto, collided with a vehicle driven by Eugene Edmond Palsson, 37, of 40 Mariele Drive, Fairfax.

Officers said Palsson's vehicle hit the rear of the Sprague vehicle on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Mountain View Avenue about 11:55 a.m. Mrs. Sprague was treated at Marin General Hospital.

A 12-year-old San Anselmo youth, Phillip L. Mooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip L. Mooney of 196 The Alameda, suffered a minor head cut at 1 p.m. when the bicycle he was riding on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Kent Avenue struck an open car door.

Police reported Evio Florin Comolli, 43, of 1515-B Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, said he halted the car and was opening the door to exit the vehicle when the youth struck the door. Phillip was taken home for treatment by a private physician.

'Free' Gold Market Sending Dollar Higher

LONDON (UPI)—Peace hopes in Vietnam and the success of the weekend Stockholm world money talks sparked gold selling on the newly opened London "free" gold market today. It sent the dollar and the pound higher on foreign exchanges.

The same factors slashed millions of pounds from gold mining shares on London's stock market as conditions seemed set to restore confidence in the two world reserve and trading currencies.

The setting of the "free" gold price in London at $38 an ounce today hit some speculators who had bought heavily when the mad March gold rush became a stampede and drained tons of gold from official government reserves into Private hoards.

The price of gold dropped on the Paris market today to an unofficial reckoning of $38.06 per ounce compared with Friday's price of $38.40.

The nine-nation Stockholm agreement to create a new form of world reserve asset through so-called "paper gold" at the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and President Johnson's Vietnam initiative cracked at the hopes of gold gamblers who had bet on forcing the world price sharply higher.

At only $3 above its official price of $35 dollars an ounce, today's "free" market price disappointed the big speculators. They still have relatively good profits but some operators were said to be banking on a far bigger take than this.

When the five firms which form the London gold market met today after a two-week closure they reported that buying orders were fairly evenly matched by selling orders.

Turnover was about average for the sort of trading seen on a normal day in non-gold rush times. This could mean between 5 and 10 tons changing hands at this session of the market where the main orders are matched and the price guideline is set.

New Call By Reagan To Help The Minorities

BERKELEY (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan says responsible Negro and Mexican-American leaders are standing between the white community and those who resort to "the club and the torch."

The governor also put the burden of helping minority groups on the shoulders of conservatives, telling them it is morally right and also good business.

Reporting for the first time on last week's meetings with minority groups, Reagan said the local leaders were "sometimes" bitter, but he found them "more often with a patience that is hard for us to understand. Sit in these meetings and you learn how they are standing between us and . . . those who have decided that they have reached the end of the road and that the only answer is the last, hopeless gesture of the club and the torch."

Reagan made probably his most extensive remarks on the racial issue yet during a dinner speech Saturday night to the volunteer California Republican Assembly.

Voter Registering Deadline April 11

A story in Saturday's Independent-Journal erred in reporting that the deadline for registering to vote in the June 4 primary election is Wednesday.

Voters may register for the primary through April 11.

EDMOND C. WARD
New Marin appraiser

E. C. Ward Appointed Inheritance Tax Aide

Edmond C. Ward of Greenbrae today was appointed an inheritance appraiser for Marin County by State Controller Houston I. Flournoy.

Ward, 41, an attorney, will fill the position formerly held by Lee V. Holman of San Rafael. Holman, a Democrat, was dropped last June by Flournoy.

Ward's appointment again gives Marin its traditional second inheritance tax appraiser. The other appraiser, Republican Ralph T. McGrath of Novato, was appointed last year by Flournoy to replace Mrs. Elaine Guthrie of Ross, a Democrat.

Each of the parttime positions earns $12,000 to $15,000 a year in fees.

Flournoy said Ward passed his office's qualifying examination in November. Flournoy added in a press release that Ward "understood that I will continue to press for reform legislation abolishing the appointive system of tax appraisers."

Ward has resigned from the Marin County Republican Central Committee because of the appointment.

A native of San Francisco, Ward has lived in Marin since 1931. He graduated from San Rafael High School and from the University of San Francisco, where he received his law degree in 1955.

He served both in World War II and the Korean War, and worked for several years as an attorney in San Francisco. In 1966 and 1967, he served as a estate tax examiner with the Internal Revenue Service before establishing his own law practice in San Rafael.

Ward and his wife, Barbara, live at 160 Nadina Way. They have two children, Gregory, 9, and Elisabeth, 7.

Ward is a member of the Marin County Bar Association, the Marin County Estate Planning Council, the Serra Club of Marin, and has served as a director of both the Catholic Social Service of Marin and the Volunteer Bureau of Marin.

U.C., Reagan Hold Major Savings Made

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The University of California and Gov. Ronald Reagan have announced separate economy drive savings of $73.2 million.

U. C. said it saved more than $3 million by economizing during the last three months of 1967.

"The effort is part of the campaign at U.C. to obtain maximum results from the money it manages, while making sure that the quality of education does not suffer in the face of hefty cuts in its operating and construction budgets," the university said.

U.C. officials and Reagan have been at odds over the governor's trimming of the university's 1968-69 operating budget request by $31 million.

Meanwhile, Reagan said he has stepped up implementation of money-saving proposals given him by his 250-member businessman's task force. He said 265 of the force's recommendations are being implemented with a potential annual saving of $56.4 million.

Talks Delay A Possible Bus Strike

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Negotiations betwen Greyhound Bus Lines and transit union representatives yesterday resulted in a 24-hour postponement of a strike scheduled for midnight tonight.

The extension of the deadline to midnight tomorrow means that the more than 4,000 Marin commuters who use Greyhound will be sure of having service both ways tomorrow, a Greyhound spokesman told the Independent-Journal.

The contract dispute with the Amalgamated Transit Union centers on wages and fringe benefits. A strike by the union's 5,000 drivers and office and station employees would affect some 100,000 passengers daily who travel on 1,500 buses over 17,000 miles of roads.

The negotiations were to resume today. The two-year contract expired March 1, but was extended to today for continued talks.

A strike by Greyhound drivers lasted 40 days in 1966.

De-Escalation Brings Criticism By Reagan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan said today he was disappointed by President Johnson's decision to scale down the Vietnam war, declaring "de-escalation usually results in more deaths for Americans."

And, the governor told newsmen, Johnson's withdrawal from the 1968 campaign might cause the Republican favorite sons to "wait and watch" instead of jumping immediately to Richard M. Nixon.

Reagan said that "for at least a period of uncertainty, those who believe they should wait and watch—this is a factor that would strengthen that resolution."

He called newsmen into his office, in response to requests, to answer questions the morning after the president announced he will not seek another term.

That announcement came as a stunning surprise to Democratic and Republican politicians in California, scene of a crucial June 4 Democratic presidential primary. It left President Johnson's California supporters without a candidate and boosted the hopes of backers of Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy.

Asked if he thought Johnson's decision to cut down bombing and sea attacks on North Vietnam was "appeasement," Reagan said "I believe that this country could now take a course that says we're not going to do less, but we're going to do more."

"If I were a GI, I'd have to ask myself if I would stick my head over a parapet when I don't know whether my country is in a war or not," he said.

Would-Be Span Jumper Saved

A Santa Rosa woman was prevented from jumping off the Golden Gate Bridge Saturday by passing motorists, according to the California Highway Patrol.

A note found in her car indicated that Winifred W. Uthman, 33, had been disappointed in love, patrolmen said.

Pieter A. Devries of San Francisco and Michael McCallum of 925 Bridgeway, Sausalito, told patrolmen they saw a woman stop her car midway across the span and run to the west railing. The two men left their car to grab her, until patrolmen arrived.

She was taken to a San Francisco hospital for observation.

Cost Of Special Audit On Agenda For Tam Panel

A cost report of a special audit of the special reserve fund and all architectural fees paid in connection with the proposed San Geronimo High School is scheduled for the 8 p.m. meeting today of the Tamalpais High School District board at district offices, Redwood High School.

The audit was ordered by the board last Wednesday, but no decision has been made of what firm will conduct it.

A summary of pending salary proposals for 1968-69 also will be presented, but is not expected to include consideration of the controversial salary of Oliver Bonner, director of maintenance and operations, because comparative data information which has been requested by the board has not yet been fully compiled, school officials said.

Mobile Homes On Council Agenda

The Novato City Council will receive recommendations on Mobile Home Park standards and limiting types of downtown businesses at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the community house.

The planning commission will hold a special meeting tonight at 8 p.m., to draw up standards for mobile home parks and also an ordinance restricting types of businesses while a proposed study is being made of the downtown area. The council will take up the matters tomorrow.

The council also will review parking on Highway 101 north of Grant Avenue in front of the bus depot, gove over plans for a Denny's Restaurant on Highway 101 south of Grant Avenue and receive a report on the progress of installation of the television cable in the city.

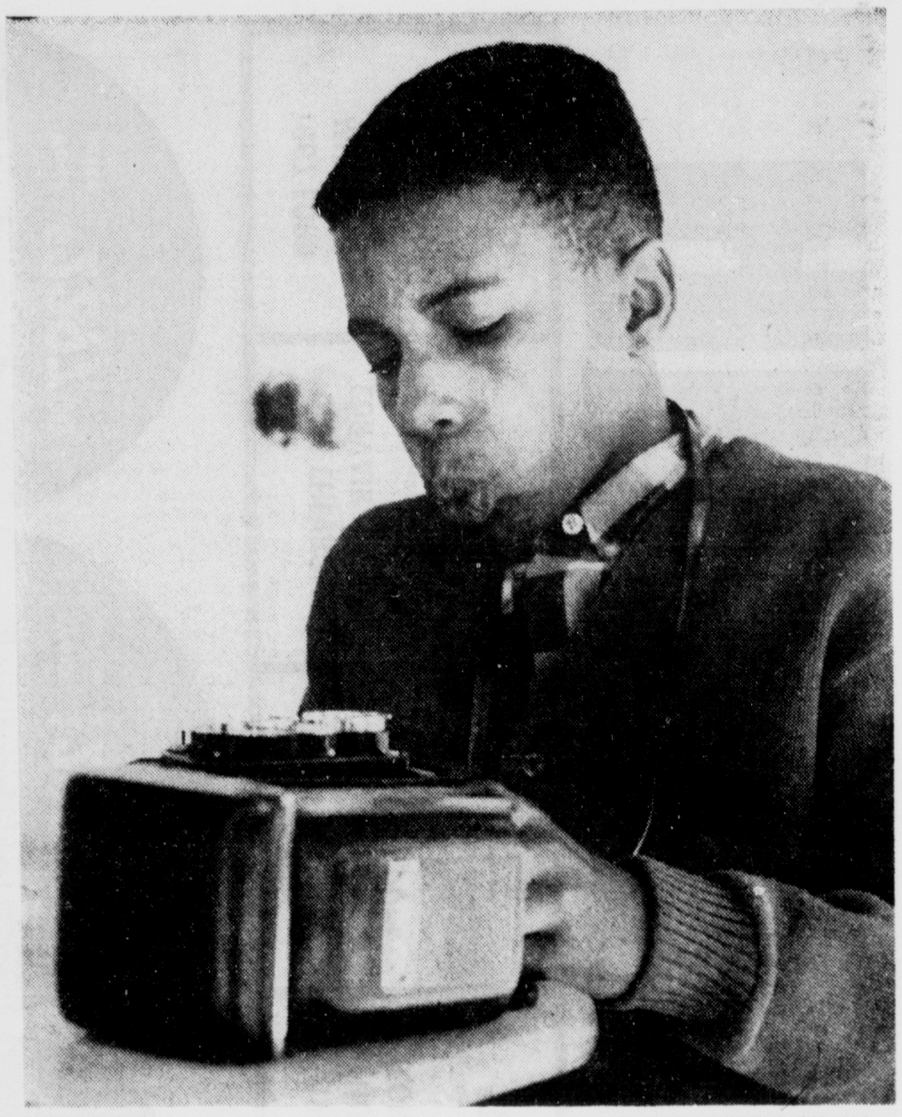
OPEN EVENINGS AND SUNDAYS

YOUNG TALK—Last summer, as part of a work experience and education project sponsored by the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council, a group of teen-agers from Marin City worked with cameras—some of them shooting pictures for the first time. Regina Carter got this shot in Marin City. The EOC and Marin City residents are preparing another summer youth program for this year, and photography may again be part of it.

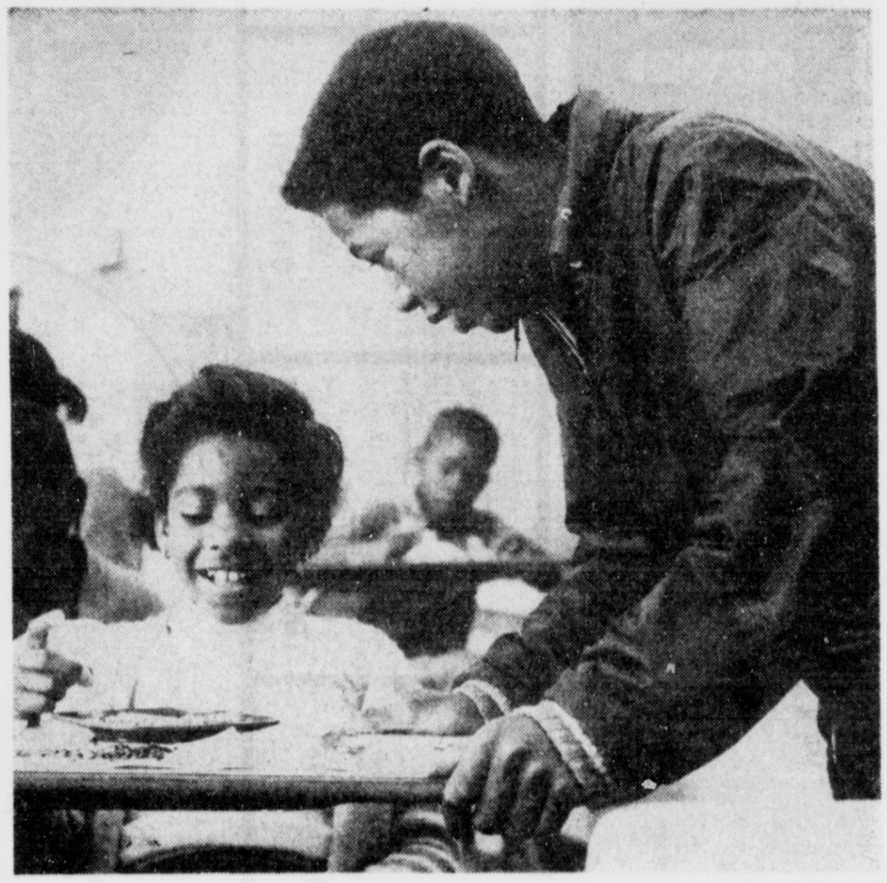


IT'S FUN — Danny Washington, loading his camera with a whistle, and Yvonne Howard, who took this photograph, were among the Image Makers, which the 10 young photographers called themselves. "Get something fresh," the young persons were told. "You're explorers making images."

Youthful Portrait Of Summer

LEADER—Mrs. Lucile Dandelet, a professional photographer from San Anselmo, was coordinator of the photography project. She praised the students' progress and pride in their work. "After the program was over," she said, "the kids came to my house and worked long hours to mount the photographs for exhibits." Some of the pictures—this one was taken by Regina Carter—may now be seen at Sleepy Hollow School.

SET SHOT—The photography team also took pictures of other phases of the summer youth project. This one was snapped by Mary Bester at Bayside School in Sausalito, where the recreation program was located. Sometimes the young people developed their own pictures. A camera store helped with blow-ups.



LIGHT MOMENT—Young Washington was in one of the arts and crafts classes at summer youth program headquarters at Santa Venetia School one day when he came across a smiling girl showing her work to an older boy. The Image Makers used Yashica D cameras, loaned by a San Francisco camera shop.

IN THE PARK—As a policeman gives directions to the Image Makers, Danny pats the officer's horse. Scene was in Golden Gate Park. The full, two-month summer program for 98 youths cost $67,000.

CRA Backing Reagan As Favorite Son

BERKELEY (AP) — Thousands of California Republican Assembly volunteers stood in firm support today of Gov. Ronald Reagan's favorite son presidential candidacy after putting down an unexpected movement to support Richard M. Nixon.

The governor's forces maintained firm control yesterday and easily handed him the backing of the state's biggest GOP endorsing group, after thwarting the surprise pro-Nixon bid.

RAFFERTY BACKED

State schools chief Max Rafferty also emerged from the weekend 34th annual convention with unanimous endorsement from the CRA, which endorsed incumbent Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel in the same meeting place six years ago. The volunteers now look on Kuchel as voting too often with Democrats, and decided to throw their 14,000—claimed membership into Rafferty's attempt to take the nomination from Kuchel at the June 4 GOP senatorial primary. Kuchel made no attempt to seek the CRA endorsement.

Reagan, who addressed the convention Saturday night, emerged with firm backing of the CRA. One of his fervent admirerers, Pasadena surgeon Tirso del Junco, was elected president. Del Junco took part in the abortive invasion of his native Cuba in 1961 and says he was a classmate of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro in days gone by.

RIGHT OF CENTER

CRA, which began as a middle-of-the-road group during the Depression, left no doubt that it continues its course on the party's right wing. The only applause to rival Reagan's Saturday night was an ovation for Sen. John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, the only admitted John Birch Society member in the legislature and a strong opponent of Reagan's financial policies.

A group of delegates from Orange County caused a stir yesterday when the time arrived to endorse Reagan's leadership of a favorite son presidential delegation to the GOP National Convention this summer.

Session Reset

The Larkspur Planning Commission, scheduled to meet April 9, will meet instead at 8 p.m. April 10 at city hall because of the April 9 election.

Reagan Offers 'Christmas' Club Accounts For Tax Bite Solution

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan suggests that Californians who want to withhold state income taxes from their paychecks be allowed to do so through a voluntary system similar to "Christmas clubs" run by banks.

Reagan put forth the proposal last night in a "report to the people" on tax matters broadcast on radio and television throughout the state. He made it clear he still opposes the idea of withholding, but said "perhaps there is a way to make the payment easier."

At the same time, the governor announced he is putting off until 1969 the No. 1 legislative goal he had sought this year—major reform of the entire tax structure. It had become evident that legislators were not inclined to quick action on the program this year, and the administration appeared to be having trouble shaping the plan.

With just two weeks before the deadline to pay last year's state taxes, Reagan went before the cameras and microphones mindful of the complaints pouring into Sacramento over the size of the income tax hike carried in his $1 billion tax raise bill enacted in 1967.

"Most of you are going to be puzzled and angry . . . I share your anger that we had to raise taxes," he declared at the outset.

On withholding, Reagan said he has directed top state officials "to attempt to work out a voluntary system by which the taxpayer could, if he wanted to, have an amount deducted from his paycheck, as many do now with other payroll deduction plans, and pay into a savings account of his own, similar to a Christmas savings club, as a means of accumulating in advance the amount necessary to pay the state income tax."

Reagan said this lets the money remain in the worker's possession if he needs it for something else, and he also would draw interest."

If this works for the income tax, he added, he will "strongly recommend" a similar arrangement for the property taxpayer.

Reagan said he still will ask these tax revisions from legislators this year, even if a full package is put off:

A constitutional amendment requiring a two-thirds legislative vote to raise any tax.

Formation of a Revenue Department to consolidate tax collections.

Another try at passage of a constitutional amendment narrowly defeated by voters in 1966, letting taxpayers figure their state tax on the basis of the federal tax.

Meanwhile, the author of the governor's proposal for carrying out the $155 million in property tax relief authorized by the 1967 session announced changes in the plan.

Republican Assemblyman John G. Veneman of Modesto proposed these amendments:

A property tax relief fund will be set up and will grow in future years in the same proportion as the sales tax grows.

The original proposal for the counties to pick up the bill for some things now paid by the state is in general abandoned.

A minimum of 20 per cent reductions will be guaranteed each of the 58 counties, replacing the original proposal of a flat minimum of $40,000 for each county.

$100,000 Suit In Strawberry Injury Is Filed

A 51-year-old San Mateo woman filed a $100,000 personal injury suit in Marin Superior Court Friday against the Strawberry Shopping Center, a private police agency and a private police officer.

Mrs. Valli Wopke Slate said she suffered general damages in that amount March 29, 1967, when Lawrence Joseph Aguilar, guard of the Associated Security Agency, rammed her car in the center's parking lot.

Mrs. Slate alleged that she was in the center at 3:30 a.m., merely to find an open coffee shop.

He chased her in his car and deliberately caused his car to crash with hers, she complained.

Mrs. Slate claims she suffered neck and back injuries. She also asked an unspecified amount for medical costs and loss of earnings.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Sailing Fire Balloons Is Fun, But Fire Hazard, Risk Is High

DEAR HELEN:

Flying saucers? No, fire balloons — those eerie red globes which sail in the air because heat from lighted candles inflates the big plastic bag suspended over them. I won't go into more detail as it might give more kids ideas.

These apparitions have now started in our neighborhood, and they're giving the police and firemen fits. I wish you'd tell parents everywhere that they are against the law because wherever a fire balloon lights, it might start a fire. — UPSET

DEAR UPSET:

Gladly!

Not long ago one of those eerie balloons landed on our roof. Luckily, a neighbor spotted the blaze and prevented a major fire.

Building and sailing such ingenious gadgets is fun, true, but the builder risks a command performance at Juvy. And his folks risk a damage suit that could ruin them.

Any act which creates a fire hazard is against the law. Parents are responsible for children's unlawful acts. Need I say more? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

A certain man and I eat lunch together every day. We discuss our problems and enjoy each other's company. Sometimes he drives me home and stops by my apartment, but mostly we are office buddies.

Helen, I feel terrible because I get the impression he no longer feels like just a brother to me. I'm all the more surprised because he is married. Should I cool it? — FRANCIS

DEAR FRANCIS:

Yes, cool it! Whether you spell your name with an 'i' or 'e' this guy spells trouble. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I have a very good friend I've known for two years. I drive 60 miles once a week to visit her. I take her to lunch, after which we window shop and talk.

Her husband always seems cordial, though he refuses my invitation to come with us. Recently a neighbor told me he calls me the big shot behind my back. He dislikes almost everyone, but I thought I was the exception.

My friend says my visits are the brightest spots of her week. I enjoy them too. I don't want to cause friction in their marriage, but can't see why her husband would resent me. Should I stop going? — MRS. T.

DEAR MRS. T:

Until you have more proof than a neighbor's gossip, why not assume the husband meant you were a big shot in the arm for his wife? Keep visiting. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband has four children by his first wife who died three years ago. He has been paying his mother to care for them.

Now that we are married, I thought the children would live with us, but my husband and his mother say, no. They say the children don't want to live with us, and it should be up to them. I say they are too young to know what they want and they should be with their father.

Why should we keep on paying his mother for baby sitting which we can't afford? — MRS. X

DEAR MRS. X:

Which is more important to you, being a mother to your husband's children or keeping the care money away from your mother-in-law? If it's the first, win the kids over gradually with weekend and summer visits, so the break won't cause traumas. If it's the last, well, maybe the present arrangement is best.—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you! Address Helen Bottel in care of The Independent-Journal.

Plastic Furniture

Plastic furniture is suggested for children because it is relatively inexpensive and can be disposed of after they outgrow it. Plastic furniture also is sturdier than some woods.

MRS. LYMAN WOOD SMITH JR.

Mannequin League Elects Diane Sabella President

Newly elected to the presidency of the Mannequin League of Marin is Mrs. Luciano Sabella of Peacock Gap. Diane, who has been a member of the League since its founding in 1959, has most recently been activities chairman.

The league now totals 30 members which includes seven who were recently initiated. All are former professional models who donate their talents to assist charitable endeavors.

In 1967 the group raised $2,000 through its annual Mannequin Ball. Proceeds went to the California Epilepsy Society. This year funds from the ball are earmarked for St. Vincent's School for Boys. Most of the funds will come from the Mannequin League's Ball on Oct. 12, which will be held at the Marin Country Club. Members last year donated time to 25 other groups for charity fashion shows and the charities made $600 to $1,500 per show. League members occasionally model for private shows, but proceeds always go to charity.

MRS. LUCIANO SABELLA

Diane Sabella, the new president, has resided in Marin since her marriage in 1955. She modeled professionally before and after that. Prior to her marriage she was a professional dancer.

The Sabellas have four children, Lisa age 11; Mark, age 10; Michelle, age 7, and Dominica, age 3. Diane's particular interest is tennis, and the Sabellas are members of the Peacock Gap Tennis Club. She has also been active in the Junior Social Service Auxiliary, Pixie Parents, the St. Sylvester Catholic Church and the Parent-Teacher Association.

Other new officers of the Mannequin League are Mrs. Norman Sanguinetti, past president; Mrs. Mrs. Lawrence Solari, first vice president; Mrs. Phillip West, second vice president; Mrs. G. Stuart Spence, models chairman.

SMART SHOPPER

Bean Snappers, Tomato Pinchers Raise Food Prices For Everyone

By MRS. MERCEDES WOOD
Trade Practice Consultant

"Do You Help Add to Food Costs?" is the title of a series of "Shopper's Guides" released by the Extension Economists, Consumer Marketing Division. This series points out how shoppers, by their careless habits in food stores, unconsciously add to the price of food for everyone.

See yourself in any of these descriptions?

THE "CARESSER." She squeezes, pinches and bruises fruits and vegetables until they are unsalable. Loss of 30 to 40 tomatoes a day from the produce shelf because of customer handling, loss of 9 to 10 pounds of fresh green beans which have been snapped by customers to test freshness, mean higher prices for everyone.

THE "TUMBLER." She carelessly upsets displays of apples, bananas, lettuce, looking for the best on the bottom. When a produce manager must pay an employee to re-organize the shelves every 30 to 40 minutes, the cost of that employee must be added to the price of the vegetables and fruits in the department.

It is possible to be selective without leaving the display in shambles. And such care ultimately helps hold the line on prices.

THE "TASTER." She not only nibbles on the grapes and strawberries, but bites into apples and even opens packages to sample their contents. Of course she does not buy the package she has opened, even when the sample sells her. You and the rest of us pay for her "samples."

Then there is the "Jammer-Stopper-Upper." You've stood behind her in the check line of course. She sends the checker to find the items she forgot or she discovers she must write a check after the checker has her order in the cash register.

Wasting the checker's time not only is unfair to shoppers who are in line, but adds to operation costs of the store, and all of us pay for her bad habits.

There is, in addition to these, the more serious problem of shoplifting. Pilfering or stealing is one of the highest cost items in foods stores. It amounts to as much as 2 per cent of gross sales in many markets. This means 2 per cent added to the price we pay.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Yum Yum' Lacking Necessary Finesse

By KARL BARRON

The San Geronimo Valley Players, with highly commendable productions of "Raisin In The Sun" and "Of Mice And Men" in the past several seasons, find in their current "Under The Yum Yum Tree" that it is easier to do serious drama than brittle comedy.

Lawrence Roman's silly romp about a couple of youngsters experimenting around the fringes of sex in a Telegraph Hill apartment ran for about five years in San Francisco with such seasoned comedy experts as Russell Nype and Marion Walters in and out of it.

But "Yum Yum" simply cannot be played by actors lacking the necessary finesse to carry the lightweight characterizations with a great amount of personal conviction. This is where the entire San Geronimo cast fails, despite the obviously determined efforts of director Stuart Rasmussen to pace his actors into believability.

Frank Sommer and Mat Matzen are credited with construction of the very charming set, which incorporates, despite the postage stamp stage, a cutaway wall to allow the outside hallway to be seen.

"Yum Yum," after a number of viewings, still has a lot of funny things going for it. Hogan's with a stethoscope, the seduction scene between the young lovers, Aunt Irene's unexpected return, are all natural laugh-getters which even this cast essays successfully.

But lack of finesse, a tendency to monotony, and plain bad timing destroy the many amusing connectives between the big laugh scenes and result in a dragging production.

Several of the cast membeers are making their first appearances, and on that basis, they do well. Ann Faanes as Irene appears to have the most polish, but misses the gay insoucience which is the cornerstone of the character. Patti Barnes in the role of the girl presents merely a good high school try, although she does come alive in the seduction scene.

However, this production has enough laughs to liven an evening — in the San Geronimo Valley — and deserves support from its area. It will be presented again at the Woodacre Improvement Club Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

MUSIC REVIEW

Prague Quartet Presents An Evening Of Perfection

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Anyone who wonders why many musicians feel that the string quartet is the highest form of absolute music should have heard the Prague Quartet last night. It was the closing concert of the Candlelight Series at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley, which was packed.

The concert was the acme of musical perfection.

Marin music lovers had the great good fortune of hearing in this Czech quartet, one of the top chamber music groups in the world in one of only two appearances in the Bay Area on this tour.

So many virtues does the ensemble possess that one could marvel over them indefinitely. The players are Bretislav Novotny and Karel Pribyl, violins; Jaroslav Karlovsky, viola, and Zdenek Konicek, cello — each a virtuoso in his own right.

Nevertheless, having played together constantly since 1956, they compose a perfectly balanced quartet in which no single player is the star. Rarely does one hear the inner voices of the second violin and viola with such crystalline clarity and power.

One of their most impressive accomplishments was their keen insight into both the intellectual and emotional idioms of composers widely differing in musical style, such as those represented on the program last night.

The quartet's virtuoso stature was demonstrated mainly in Bartok's Quartet No. 5 and in the fiendishly difficult original gros fugue of Beethoven's Quartet in B Flat Major, Opus 130. They chose to do this instead of the allegro Beethoven wrote as the concluding sixth movement after receiving criticism on the length of the fugue.

Their performance of this fugue was a masterpiece of playing so that the themes or subjects were easily followed as they passed from one instrument to another in fast tempo.

In the Bartok quartet sparks fairly flew in the fast movements that had enormous rhythmic vitality and force. Yet the quartet's palette of an infinite variety of tonal color was most evident in this work, and the glowing warmth of their tone in the exquisitely lyrical cavatina adagio molto espressivo of the Beethoven quartet could hardly have been surpassed.

Opening the concert was a performance of Haydn's Quartet in B Major, Opus 76, No. 4, that was a miracle of classical charm and grace.

Throughout the concert, polished and sensitive phrasing was a special joy.

Court Says One-Vote Rule Applies To County Agencies

WASHINGTON (UPI) --The Supreme Court ruled 5 to 3 today that the "one man, one vote" principle applies to the election of county and local governments.

In extending the controversial doctrine from the state down to the grass roots political level, the decision could apply to an estimated 80,000 governing units throughout the nation.

The ruling came on a challenge case from Midland County, Tex., which also includes the city of Midland.

In the majority opinion, Justice Byron R. White said the decision did not prevent the selection of government units by appointment or other innovations but held that if members were elected on a districting basis, the one man, one vote principle must prevail.

He also said. "The Constitution does not require that a uniform straitjacket bind citizens in devising mechanisms of local government suitable for local needs and efficient in solving local problems."

But White declared: "...The Constitution imposes one ground rule for the development of arrangement of local government: A requirement that units with general governmental powers over an eitire area not be apportioned among single member districts of substantially unequal population."

Today's case challenged the method of electing the commissioners court of Midland County, which has a area of 900 square miles and a population of 70,000. The court, a sort of county board, is composed of four commissioners elected from separate precincts and presided over by a judge elected at large.

Suit was filed by Hank Avery, a resident of Precinct One which encompasses the City of Midland and its suburbs and contains about 95 per cent of the county's population.

Refused a hearing to David W. Brown, an Army private who challenged restrictions on the way in which members of the armed forces can claim they are conscientious objectors to war. Brown is now serving an 18-month prison sentence for refusing to take military training after his 1966 induction.

Rejected, 6 to 3, an appeal by Ronald L. Johnson from his Massachusetts death sentence for the 1963 murder of a Boston policemen.

Gwen Curatilo Will Be Guest

Gwen Curatilo, soprano with the San Francisco Opera Company, will be guest artist at a College of Marin Music Department faculty recital Friday.

The recital, with free admission, will start at 8:30 p.m. in Choral Hall (Room 72) of the Fine Arts Building at the college campus in Kentfield.

Robaline Meacham, pianist, and Charles Meacham, violinist, will present the recital.

Quips And Wits On Baseball Tour

PHOENIX — Every tour has its wit. The tour arranged by San Rafael's Paul Hartman and Al Murray to the Giants training camp here has several wits.

Take San Rafael businessman Al Tognoli for example. Please take him.

Anyway, in the refreshment lounge the other evening, he was saying: "That guy Murry is quite a salesman. He told me there'd be a lot of lovely young dollies on this trip. Gawd, when I got on the plane it looked like a medicare tour."

Actually, it's a swinging group, as Tognoli has discovered. At the Scottsdale Oltimers brunch the other day a group of Cub fans from Chicago was introduced as quite a bunch of drinkers.

Umpire Holds A Comic Course

To which, Tognoli growled: "Hah, they think they're drinkers. Maybe we ought to challenge their drinking team to a match. We'll take them on for singles, doubles or anything they want whenever they want."

Looking around at several of his fellow passengers who brought along their wives, Tognoli deadpanned: "Taking your wife along on a trip like this is like taking a ham sandwich to a banquet."

At a nearby table, holding a comic course on his own was Emmett Ashford, the diminutive and voluble Negro umpire.

Ashford identifies himself as a graduate of the Leo Durocher-Helen Keller school of umpiring.

He calls Herman Franks "an airdale because he's always barking at me."

He Got It In Black And White

Ashford told me about one of his run ins with Chicago Cub manager Leo Durocher on a controversial rule.

"Well, said Ashford, "I was behind the plate and Durocher stormed up to me, protesting the call I had made. He wanted one of the other umpires to substantiate my judgment.

"'I want it in writing.' Leo screamed at me. So I got first base umpire Lon Warneke to colloborate with me and I told Leo, 'Okay you want it in writing, so there it is. Warneke agrees with me, so there you have it in black and white.' "

Really Been On The Go

The 80 Northern California baseball fans who arrived here Wednesday night have been on the go ever since and much more is on the agenda for their eight-day tour.

With the Athletics moving into Oakland this season as direct competitors, the Giants are more than delighted with this special spring training tour promoted by the San Rafael men. Giants owner Horace Stoneham, upon learning that the group was idle tomorrow, invited the entire swinging gang to be his guests for lunch at Casa Grande.

Upon arrival at the camp and after meeting the personable Ray Sadecki, William Vollenwider of Corte Madera said: "He's one of the nicest fellas I've ever met. After the infamous Cepeda deal, poor Ray was on the spot and I'm really pulling for him to make his critics eat their words."

250 Youngsters Attend Clinic

More than 250 young players attended the second of three free baseball clinics sponsored by the Atlanta Braves last Saturday at Albert Field in San Rafael.

The second clinic was for Little League players and was also attended by Little League coaches who missed the first clinic for coaches.

The third clinic will be held next Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at Albert Field for players in the Babe Ruth and American Legion programs and coaches and players who may have missed the first two clinics.

Warriors' Big Chance Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—If the San Francisco Warriors hope to upset the St. Louis Hawks in the Western Division playoffs of the National Basketball Association, tomorrow night at the Cow Palace is the likely time and place.

The Warriors, who finished in third place in the regular season, jumped off to a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven series with the first place Hawks. However, the Hawks closed the gap yesterday by walloping the San Francisco club, 129-103.

If the Warriors can win tomorrow night, they'll wrap it up. But if they lose, it's back to St. Louis for the decider.

Bill Bridges led the Hawks yesterday with 28 points, while Lou Hudson hit 26. St. Louis allowed Jeff Mullins, who had averaged 32 points per game in four previous playoff contests, just 12 points. Bob Warlick was high for the Warriors, with 21, although he played only 23 minutes.

Tar Nine Triumphs Over Napa

College of Marin upped its Golden Valley Conference baseball record to 3-1 with an 8-1 romp over Napa, the Tars' second straight win over Napa.

Ed Beckley went the nine-inning route for the Tars, giving up six hits. Kevin Wilson Fred Danielle and Jay Capell each had two hits to lead the nine-hit Tar attack.

College of Marin put it away inthe second inning when Pat Puccinelli's two-run single, a double by Fred Danielle and a run-scoring single by Capell resulted in a four-run outburst.

Dodgers Cash In On S.F. Errors For Another Win

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The San Francisco Giants tangle with Cleveland tomorrow after a day's rest for a long think-session over all the mistakes they made against the Dodgers.

Los Angeles, in fourth place in the baseball exhibition season, cashed in on Giant errors yesterday for a 9-7 win.

The Dodgers belted pitcher Ron Herbel for two runs "right off the bat" in the first inning, and four more in the third. Giant hurler Joe Gibbon took over and held the foe scoreless for four innings.

Frank Linzy took over from Gibbon in the eighth when the Dodgers bopped him for three more runs.

The Giants were trying to work up a rally in the ninth inning when the game ended. A walk and three singles added up to two runs with two left on. Only it was three out.

HALLER HAPPY

Tom Haller, the Giant catcher who was traded to the Dodgers this year, says he's a happy fellow.

"After all, it could have been worse," he said. "They could have shipped me off to Philadelphia or Houston or the Mets. This is a good organization and I'm glad to be with them."

Just to prove it, Haller hit a three-run triple to get in on the scoring goodies against the Giants yesterday in the Dodgers four-run third inning.

DOUBLE PLAYS

The Dodgers turned in three more double plays giving them a spring total of 28 in only 21 games. Leading man on many of the double plays has been former Minnesota Twin shortstop Zoilo Versalles.

And just to show he wasn't "good field, no hit," Zoilo had three hits in the contest with an RBI and a run scored.

Red hot Willie Davis, one of the top hitting Dodgers this spring, went 2-for-2, a bunt single and a triple, and then went out of the game with a sore back.

Miss Greene Nears World Skiing Title

ROSSLAND, B.C. (AP) — Nancy Greene, on the verge of retiring from competitive skiing, has all but wrapped up her second World Cup, symbol of skiing supremacy.

With her victory in the giant slalom at the Red Mountain International Ski Meet yesterday, Miss Greene, a native of Rossland, assured herself of at least a tie for the title.

Only Isabelle Mir of France, eighth in the giant slalom, could conceivably tie her and to do that she would have to win the slalom and giant slalom at Heavenly Valley, Calif., next week in the last World Cup meet, while Miss Greene finished third or worse in the slalom.

Miss Greene's time for the single run was 1:26.85, 1.56 seconds ahead of second-place Florence Steurer of France. Gertrude Gabl of Austria was third.

In the men's giant slalom Austrian Herbert Huber was a surprise winner with runs of 1:33.84 and 1:33.17. Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., was the top American finisher, coming in ninth.

Pagliaroni Decision Faces A's

COCOA, Fla. (AP)—The Oakland Athletics, who send Diego Segui to the mound today against the Houston Astros, dropped a 10-inning decision 4-3 yesterday to the Chicago White Sox B team.

The Sox won it in the 10th when Rich Severson singled home Bill Melton in a bases-loaded situation that blew up in the face of Vern Handrahan, a Vancouver Mountie hurler whom the Athletics had borrowed for extra-innings purposes.

CUT KNEE

Also during the fateful tenth, Athletics catcher Jim Pagliaroni gashed his knee badly trying for a fly ball behind home plate when he fell and slid into the concrete base of the screen. At the hospital he had 10 stitches taken in the gash, but X rays showed no broken bones or torn ligaments.

Nevertheless, the bandage over the gash gives him a stiff knee and he'll be out of play for two or three days, giving the A's time for thought about him.

Pagliaroni played with the Pittsburgh Pirates last year, but figured in only 44 games because of an injury.

CONDITIONS

During the off season he was operated upon and two ruptured discs were found in his neck which had been exerting pressure on a nerve which had weakened his arm. During this period he was sold to the Athletics — conditionally — and the condition was that he'd be healthy and able to play.

The knee injury is not regarded as serious, and the neck trouble seems ended, but the Athletics have to decide by two days before the season opening next Sunday whether to keep him.

If they do, they'll be committed to pay him his $30,000 salary and $15,000 to the Pirates.

BOCCABELLA SIGNS NEW CUBS' PACT

John Boccabella of San Anselmo was aboard an airplane this morning to join the Chicago Cubs in Phoeniz, Ariz.

Boccabella, traded to the New York Yankess last year by the Cubs, obtained his release from the Yankees and signed a new Chicago contract, "with a big raise over last year," said his wife today.

"We couldn't believe it," said Mrs. Boccabella about his new contract. "As we understand it, he'll be the No. 2 catcher for the Cubs this season. He may be with Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League until he gets back into shape," she added.

Englishman Jacklin Beats Yank Golfers

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Not since Ted Ray took the U.S. Open in 1920 had an English golfer won a major American tournament.

Then along came Tony Jacklin, quietly happy Tony Jacklin. A golfer with ice water in the veins—the kind that wins and wins and becomes great.

At the age of 23, Jacklin is a winner with every promise of joining the ranks of the great—which he thinks of as Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Ben Hogan, but with no idea of patterning himself after any one of them.

He said he was nervous, but he never showed it as he faced down Palmer in the final round of the greater Jacksonville Open yesterday. He admitted he utilized "Arnie's Army" as his own battery-charger to a 15-under-par 273 and the $20,000 first money.

It was the first time a golfer from England had ever won on the Professional Golfers Association tour.

Even before Jacklin hit the jackpot, Player was calling him potentially the greatest English golfer since Henry Cotton and the man most likely to be his nation's next sports hero.

When the PGA tour stopped at Pensacola a week earlier, Jacklin stumbled to a second-place finish after being on the verge of winning. It might have been the same story at Jacksonville when he bogeyed the 14th and 15th holes on the final round, cutting in half his four-stroke lead.

But Jacklin showed the steel in his backbone, the kind that

76ers, Celts Can Wrap Things Up

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The depleted Philadelphia 76ers have managed to hang onto their five starters, but they had to replace their sparkplug to get moving against the New York Knicks.

Johnny Green, 34 years old and without a playoff game in his National Basketball Association career until nine days ago, provided the spark yesterday as the 76ers ran over the Knicks 123-105 in Philadelphia.

Filling in for hot-shot sixth man Billy Cunningham, who is out with a broken wrist, Green fused a third quarter rally with five points and six rebounds for a 92-80 lead, and the 76ers never looked back.

IN LEAD

The victory put the injury-riddled world champion 76ers up 3-2 in this best-of-7 Eastern Division semifinal series with a chance to wrap it up tonight in New York.

"We're in the driver's seat now," said 76er Coach Alex Hannum.

Boston, expected to meet Philadelphia in the division final playoff after finishing second to the 76ers in regular season play, stood by its old standbys for a similar decisive third quarter that downed Detroit 110-96 in Boston.

The Celtics, also taking a 3-2 lead, can clinch their series in Detroit tonight.

A ROUT

The St. Louis Hawks, their backs against the wall at the Washington University Field House in St. Louis, rebounded to a 129-103 rout over San Francisco and sent that Western Division semifinal back to San Francisco tomorrow night.

The Lakers increased a 58-55 halftime lead to a 75-60 bulge with their own third-quarter blitz against the Bulls. Elgin Baylor led Los Angeles with 37 points.

Favored Los Angeles did not let Chicago off the hook and won their set, 4-1, by crushing the Bulls 122-99 last night in Los Angeles.

In the American Basketball Association, Denver evened its best-of-5 semi-finals series at 2-2 by beating New Orleans 108-100.

Green, who has bounced around the NBA for nine years and came to the 76ers from San Diego in January, got nine points to help Philadelphia to a 56-all halftime tie. Playing with an injury — a dislocated finger — like four of the 76er starters, he finished with 16 points and 11 rebounds.

THRILL

"I realize I have to make some contribution like Billy has been making," he said, calling yesterday's contribution his greatest thrill.

Hal Greer led Philadelphia with 33 points while Cazzie Russell had 31 for the Knicks.

Bailey Howell, Sam Jones and John Havlicek lit the fuse under Boston as the Celtics turned an eight-point deficit early in the third period into an 83-80 lead entering the fourth. Detroit never caught up.

Learning In Store For Cagers

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Adapting to international rules remains the biggest hurdle U.S. Olympic basketball candidates must overcome, according to Coach Henry Iba.

"They have to be more aggressive on that board play," Iba said, "and they don't know how to foul for profit yet."

Iba made his remarks Saturday after the West beat the East 95-88 in the annual college all-star game held this year in conjunction with the Olympic pre-trials.

Both teams, along with the Central and College Division teams of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which also worked out here last week, went to Albuquerque, N.M., yesterday.

PRACTICES

The four squads, plus teams from the Amateur Athletic Union, the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, the National Junior College Athletic Association and the Armed Forces, will practice today through Wednesday. They will play three games each in a round-robin competition in the Olympic selection tournament Thursday through Saturday.

The Olympic team of 12 and six alternates is expected to be announced Sunday.

Iba, who is supervising the Olympic workouts, said fouling for profit meant that if a guard saw a player ready to shoot, he should foul him before the shot.

Under international rules, when a player is fouled before the shot, the ball is taken out of bounds. When the foul occurs in the act of shooting, two shots are awarded.

MARAVICH BEST

In the all-star encounter, Purdue's Rick Mount teamed with Jo Jo White of Kansas late in the second half to lead the West to victory. Mount topped all scorers with 24 points.

Pete Maravich of Louisiana State had 16 points and played an alert floor game for the East. He was named the game's top player.

Another international rule is that referees do not handle the ball on out-of-bounds plays.

Johnny Bach, who directed the East, said the Olympic rules have forced American players into "instant reactions."

"This is strange for them," he said. "They all have been waiting for the referee to give them the ball and they've been getting back on defense too slowly."

The international rules include playing with a cone-shaped foul lane, no midcourt line and allowing an extra step while dribbling.

WARLICK ON WARPATH

San Francisco Warrior Bob Warlick bulls his way to the basket as he drives past St. Louis Hawk Lou Hudson in the third quarter of the Warrior-Hawk NBA playoff game in St. Louis. Warlick led the Warriors with 21 points in a losing cause as St. Louis won, 129-103, to trail 3-2 in the best of seven series.

comes with champions.

"Right after I bogeyed those two holes, where I used the wrong clubs, I pushed my drive the next hole to the left," he said. "I thought to myself, 'Don't do anything foolish,' and when I got to the ball, I found it was in perfect position."

He reached the green, 10 feet from the cup and barely missed a birdie. On the 17th he put an iron shot eight feet from the pin and got the birdie.

Knowing his position, he played on the 18th cautiously. He even used a putter from a sand trap "because if I had used a sand wedge I might have skinned it."

Long before, Palmer had dropped out of contention after starting the day one stroke in back of Jacklin. Doug Sanders, who couldn't match his golf strokes to his fire-engine-red wardrobe, faded after holding at least a share of the lead through three rounds.

Sanders' 73, with the help of a 40-foot finishing putt, tied him for second at 275 with Don January, Gardner Dickinson, Chi Chi Rodriguez and DeWitt Weaver Jr. Each collected $6,520.

Palmer was at 276 and Jack Nicklaus, never a contender throughout the 72-hole event, finished 23rd at 280. Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael finished at 72-282 for $700.

Emerson, Ashe Rap New Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the world's top players, Roy Emerson and Arthur Ashe, predicted today that the International Lawn Tennis Federation's plan to create a new category — the authorized player — would not work.

"It seems awful complicated to me—I don't think it will work," said Emerson, the veteran Australian who has won all the world's top amateur titles, some several times.

"It's ridiculous. I don't think it will last six months," said Ashe, Negro member of the U.S. Davis Cup Team.

Ashe, a lieutenant in the U.S. Army, upset the top-seeded Emerson 6-4, 6-4, 7-5 Saturday night for the men's crown in the Garden Challenge Trophy Tournament.

It was Emerson's last appearance as an amateur. Today in Los Angeles he is slated to sign a pro contract guaranteeing him $100,000 a year for three years.

The women's title went to Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., who defeated Judy Tegart of Australia 7-5, 7-5. The little Texas girl scored a smashing upset in the semifinal over world amateur queen Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., who also signs a pro contract today for a guaranteed $80,000 over two years.

Shortly before the players took the court for the Garden final, the ILTF in Pairs approved a limited number of open tournaments and decided on three categories of players.

They are pros, who play for money, authorized players, top amateurs who can demand appearance and expense money, and pure amateurs, who are supposed to play for the fun of it.

"What does that mean?" Ashe asked. "Does it mean that authorized players can still demand money to show up for a tournament? Do they include this on their income tax? What is the difference between an authorized player and a pro?"

Yarborough On Top Of The Racing World

ATLANTA (AP) — Cale Yarborough is on top of the racing world right now with two big victories and $70,000 in winnings this year.

But the onetime Soapbox Derby kid says his fight to get to the top hasn't been easy.

"Lots of times I felt it wasn't worth it and decided to quit," the 29-year-old racing veteran from Timmonsville, S.C., said after winning the Atlanta 500 yesterday.

"But then I'd sleep on it and decide I was just as good as those other guys, and go back at it."

Yarborough's perseverance has paid off and the hard-driving blond is in position to become the biggest money-winner ever in one year. He needs about $60,000 to break the record set by Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C.

"I don't know if I can break it, but I've got a real good start," said Yarborough, who averaged 125 miles an hour in winning the 500-mile Atlanta race worth $20,050.

Yarborough won a duel with another 1968 Mercury driver, Lee Roy Yarbrough of Columbia, S.C. They also finished 1-2 at the Daytona 500 a month ago.

"I'm the one that spells his name right," Cale said, adding he was sure he could have won even if Lee Roy had not been penalized on the 301st lap of the 334-lap race.

Lee Roy disagreed, contending he did not jump the gun when he passed Cale when the caution flag was dropped on the 301st lap.

Lee Roy won $9,285 in the race, with Donnie Allison of Hueytown, Ala., pocketing $5,365 for third. Charlie Glozbach of Georgetown, Ind., was fourth and Darel Dieringer of Charlotte, N.C., was fifth.

Petty finished sixth in his 1968 Plymouth. He lost his shot at the title when he scraped the wall on the 70th lap and had to make a long pit stop for repairs.

Clippers Win Opener

OAKLAND (AP)— The Oakland Clippers have started their North American Soccer League season with a 2-1 victory, thanks to Boston Beacon players Erik Dyreborg and Tom Kelly.

The score was tied 1-1 with four minutes left when Dyreborg tried to block a Clipper shot at the Boston goal and accidentally bounced the ball off Kelly and into the net.

The Clippers had scored first at 31 minutes when Ilija Lukic took a pass from Ilija Mitic on a direct free kirk and from seven yards out booted it past Beacon goalkeeper Jorgen Henriksen.

Boston then tied it at 40 second in the second half when Bill Frazier kicked one past Clipper goalkeeper Leonel Conde from 12 yards.

Senators Whip All N.L. Foes

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National League has parted company with the Washington Senators. It's the best thing that's happened to the National League all spring.

Washington pushed over an unearned run in the eighth inning yesterday and edged the Houston Astros 3-2, completing an 11-game exhibition sweep over National League opposition.

The victory gave the Senators an over-all record of 15-5—best in the exhibition circuit.

WINNING RUNS

Bernie Allen singled in the eighth, moved around to third on two infield outs und scored the winning run on one of three errors committed by Hector Torres, the Astros' rookie shortstop. Ken McMullen delivered the other Washington runs with a homer and sacrifice fly.

Brooks Robinson, Baltimore's All-star third baseman, was hit below the left ear by a Steve Blass pitch in the fifth inning of Pittsburgh's 3-1 victory over the Orioles. Robinson, who was wearing an ear flap on his batting helmet, escaped serious injury but will miss tonight's game against the Senators.

Cincinnati pounded the New York Yankees 8-2, scoring seven runs off Mel Stottlemyre in the first three innings. Mel Queen, who blanked New York on two hits through five frames, was the winner.

BIG BLAST

Tommy Davis' three-run homer and the shutout pitching of Bob Priddy, Bob Locker, Wilbur Wood and Don McMahon led the Chicago White Sox to a 6-0 victory over Philadelphia, ending the Phils winning streak at five games.

Detroit, Minnesota and California won extra innings struggles.

The Tigers nipped St. Louis 6-5 in 12 innings, Wayne Comer delivering the tie-breaking run with a pinch double. Mickey Stanley hit a three-run homer and Willie Horton a solo blast for the winners.

Rod Carew's 12th-inning homer gave the Twins a 3-2 nod over Boston. Elston Howard drove in the Red Sox runs with a single and homer.

RALLY

The Angels spotted Cleveland two runs in the top of the 11th, then rallied in the bottom of the inning for a 6-5 victory on run-scoring singles by Jay Johnstone, Rick Reichardt and Chuck Hinton.

Atlanta rookie Ron Reed scattered four hits through seven innings and reliever Claude Raymond completed a seven-hit, 2-0 victory for the Braves over the New York Mets, who have been blanked twice in a row and six times.

The Indians' B squad peppered Ken Holtzman for six runs in five innings and ripped the Chicago Cubs 9-2 while the White Sox Bs edged Oakland 4-3 on Rich Severson's RBI single in the 10th inning.

Seals End Season As Spoiler

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals were not good enough to win once in their last 13 National Hockey League games.

But they were good enough Saturday night to tie Los Angeles 2-2 and that's too good, as far as the Kings were concerned.

The tie knocked the Kings out of a chance to tie Philadelphia for the Western Division title.

Going into the game, the last of the season for both clubs, Los Angeles trailed Philadelphia by two points. The Kings needed a win, plus losses Saturday night and Sunday by Philadelphia.

Philadelphia lost Saturday night 2-0 to Pittsburgh, but the Kings gained only one point with the tie.

Trailing 2-0, the Seals tied the game on goals by Bill Hicke and Wally Boyer and played the Kings even despite being shorthanded in the closing minutes.

WINNING TRIPLE JUMP — Ken Gaines of Kansas lands in a pile of victory sand with a winning leap of 50-2 to take the varsity triple jump in a college dual track meet against UCLA. Kansas won the meet, 102-42. (UPI Telephoto)

Troy Trackmen Soaring Back Into The Spotlight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

In one week, the University of Southern California track team has soared back to former prominence and the UCLA track team has fallen on hard times.

The Trojans got tremendous performances Saturday morning from three distance runners and a hurdler in a 115-29 dual meet victory over Occidental.

The Bruins, a few hours later, won only four events in losing to a strong and Jim Ryun-less Kansas team 102-42.

Troy's Carl Trentadue raced to within two-tenths of a second of the school record with a 1:47.9 in the half mile. It was the fastest outdoor 880 of the year.

TWO-MILE

Neill Duggan of the Trojans won the two-mile in a school mark of 8:47.6 and Ole Oleson ripped off a 4:06.2 mile victory. And Earl McCullouch ran the 120-yard high hurdles in 13.6 seconds, the fastest time in the world this year.

But the injury-riddled Bruins had only one sparkling performance in a meet of frustration.

Don Domansky captured the 440 in 46.8 and ran third in the 220 at 21.6.

Gene McLain took over for the injured Ryun to win the half in 1:52.5 and the mile in 4:06.0. Kansas' Glenn Cunningham won the two-mile in 9:15.6 as Kansas outscored UCLA 23-4 in the three distance events.

Ken Gaines of the Jayhawks had a great triple, winning the high jump at six feet, six inches, the triple jump at 50-2 and taking second in the long jump at 23-5¼.

IMPRESSIVE

Probably the most impressive performance came in the Claremont Relays where University of Redlands freshman Jerry Proctor long jumped 26-4. Proctor then came back to run a flight of high hurdles in 14.3 and then run second in a wind-aided 100 in 9.4.

Dave Reeves of the Inland Empire Track Club had run a legitimate 9.4 earlier in the day.

Other marks at the Claremont meet included a 65-4½ shot put by George Woods of the Pacific Coast Club and teammate Charlie Craig's 52-¼ in the triple jump. Bob Seagren of USC negotiated 17-½ at Claremont.

San Jose State scored an 87-58 victory over California despite Clarence Johnson's 7-1 high jump for the Bears.

San Jose's Ron Smith captured the 100 in 9.4. Cal's Devone Smith ran the half in 1:50.8, and the Spartan mile relay team, anchored by Lee Evans, ran to a good early season time of 3:10.6.

7-3 JUMP

Stanford's Australian high jumper Peter Boyce soared 7-3—the highest leap of the year—as his Indians defeated Fresno State 78-66. Only bright spot for the Bulldogs was a 17-½ pole vault by Erkki Mustakari. Boyce's mark was a record for an Australian.

In a Friday night meet, Arizona State clobbered Oklahoma, 81-64, as Sun Devil Jerry Jobski won the two-mile in 8:58.9 and teammate Ken Robinson took the mile in 4:06.9.

Washington won 16 of the 17 events from Idaho and beat the Vandals 126-19. Huskie Rich Mesmer won the half in 1:52.0.

New Mexico ripped Arizona 104-41, as Rene Matison ran a 9.3 100-yard dash aided by a stiff wind.

Arizona's Dale Frederick clipped off a 13.8 high hurdle time and New Mexico's Art Baxter triple jumped 49-2 ¾.

Ray Leach Trailing By Eight

Novato High School's many splendored teen golfer Ray Leach, trying to recover from an opening day disaster in which he shot a 78, came back with a 71 yesterday for a two-round total of 149 in the Alameda Commuters Tournament at Alameda Muni Golf Course.

Leach, who is defending champion, is tied with six other golfers, eight strokes off the pace.

The lead belongs to San Jose 18-year-old with the unlikely name of Forrest Fezler, the qualifying medalist, who came in with a 70 to go with his first day's work of 71 for a 141 total and a one-stroke lead over three golfers.

But exactly who will wind up on top won't be known until next week when the tournament resumes for another two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

It is, after all a commuters tourney and you can't do that every day of the week.

NCAA SWIMMING

Hoosiers Triumph

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — Indiana coach Doc Counsilman knows his newly-crowned NCAA swimming champions can't make the Olympics en masse, but he wants them all to try.

"I'm not going to single out Olympic prospects," Counsilman said after his charged-up Hoosiers ended long years of frustration by making a runaway of the 1968 NCAA meet.

"We want every boy to train for the trials as long as he has the slightest ghost of a chance —and we think everyone on the team has that," added the veteran mentor who coached the U.S. Olympic team to its smashing success in 1964.

BIG STAR

One Hoosier ace whose chances seem more corporeal than spectral has to be Charlie Hickcox, the meet's individual star with three record-breaking victories. The 21-year-old junior from Phoenix, Ariz., lowered American standards with a 1:52.5 clocking in the 200-yard individual medley and a :52.1 in defending his 100-yard back stroke crown, then erased his own NCAA and meet marks with a 1:54.6 effort to retain the 200-yard backstroke title.

Asked which event or events he hoped to qualify for in the Olympic trials this summer Hickcox said: "Anything I can possibly get in. I just want to make that team, sir. That's my goal."

BARRIER SMASHED

The feats of Hickcox and his teammates dominated over-all competition in the three-day meet at Dartmouth college, but UCLA's Mike Burton turned in the biggest single highlight with a historic smashing of the 16-minute barrier in the 1,650-yard freestyle.

The 5-foot-9 "Mighty Mite" churned to a 15:59.4 clocking on Saturday's closing night. The feat, comparable to the sub four minute mile in track, erased his own record of 16:08 set a year ago.

"I had no idea I was going that fash until the finish," Burton said.

Burton's teammate Zac Zorn was another individual standout, successfully defending his 50-yard freestyle crown and then setting an American record of :45.3 in the 100.

SCHOLLANDER

Don Schollander of Yale, also pointing for the Olympics and a chance to add to the four gold medals he won at Tokyo in 1964, won the 200-yard freestyle and anchored relay teams which set American records of 3:04.9 in the 400-yard freestyle race and 6:50.7 in the 800-yard freestyle.

The big story of the meet, though, had to be the victory of the long-thwarted Hoosiers, who had won just about every other honor in Counsilman's 10 years at the helm only to miss out on the top prize. For three years (1961-63) a football probation prevented Indiana from competing, then the Hoosiers finished second by heartbreaking margins the next three years and third in 1967.

NO DOUBTS

This year, however, they left no doubts. Led by Hickcox, Captain Bill Utley and a group of divers, the Hoosiers piled up 346 points. Yale had 253, Southern California 231 and defending champion Stanford 205, with the rest of the field far behind.

Individual winners for Indiana in addition to Hickcox were Utley in the 440-yard individual medley and Jim Henry in the one-meter dive.

Other winners were 500 freestyle, Greg Charlton, Southern California; 100 breast stroke, Dick Nesbit, Texas-Arlington; 200 breaststroke, Phil Long, Yale; 100 butterfly, Doug Russell, Texas Arlington; three-meter diving, Keith Russell, Arizona State, and 400-yard medley relay, Texas-Arlington.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Good Players Know It Is Often Wise To Let A Finesse Through

Millions of bridge players go through life quaking with fear that some day they may forget to take a finesse. Good players know that it often pays to refuse a finesse in cold blood, a point I'll try to hammer home this week.

No. 3517 ..... April 1, 1968

TRIES FINESSE

West opened the ten of hearts and South, a devout finesser, tried a finesse with dummy's queen. East won with the king of hearts and saw that there was no future in hearts since South surely held the jack. (West would have led the jack if his suit had been headed by the jack-10.)

East therefore shifted to the jack of spades, and South's next finesse lost to the king. Back came a spade, and South's ace was knocked out.

South would have survived if he had guessed the winning play in diamonds, but he played the ace of diamonds first. East was then sure to get in with the queen of diamonds, and the spade tricks put South down two.

ROAD TO HEAVEN

Anybody who wants to go to a bridge player's heaven should refuse the finesse at the first trick. South should take the ace of hearts, lead out the king of diamonds and then try a finesse with the jack of diamonds.

South doesn't care if he loses this finesse because West cannot safely attack spades. South has time to develop a second heart trick and is therefore sure to take four diamonds, two hearts, two clubs and one spade.

SHOULD WORK

As the cards lie, the diamond finesse works. Now South is sure of 10 tricks and can afford to try a spade finesse after he has developed his second heart.

Tile Layers Darken German Strike Mark

BONN (UPI)—A 45-day strike by tile layers drove the number of working days lost in Gernany in 1967 up to 389,581, compared with only 27,086 days lost through strikes in 1966 and 48,520 in 1965, according to the Federal Statistical Office.

The government bureau said 75 per cent of the days lost last year resulted from the strike of tile layers in North Rhine-Westphalia. The average length of other strikes was 1.8 days.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, April 1, the 92nd day of 1968 with 274 to follow. This is All Fools' Day.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1853, Cincinnati set a precedent by deciding to pay members of its fire department a regular salary. Ordinary firemen were paid $60 a year, lieutenants $100, captains $150 and pipemen $365.

In 1918, the British Royal Air Force was founded and two months later began hitting industrial targets in Germany from French bases.

In 1939, Generalissimo Franco of the rebel forces announced the end of the Spanish Civil War.

In 1946, 400,000 bituminous coal miners in the United States went on strike for more money.

A thought for the day: Irish dramatist Richard Brinsley Sheridan said, "Tale bearers are as bad as the tale makers."

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Make Deductions From Gross Income Before It's Adjusted

Wikel

There are two places on the tax return where you can make deductions.

One is for deductions directly from your gross income to arrive at adjusted gross income.

The other is for deductions from your adjusted gross income to arrive at your net taxable income.

It is a far better thing to deduct from your gross income than it is to deduct from your adjusted gross income.

Taxes and interest are frequently deducted on page 2 from your adjusted gross income. This is where they belong if they apply to your personal residence or other personal items.

However, if taxes and interest apply to income producing property, then they should be deducted from the income produced by the property.

For instance: suppose you own a duplex and suppose you live in half of it. You would deduct one half the interest and taxes on page 2 as itemized deductions, and the other half you should deduct in Schedule B, "Rent and Royalty" so as to reduce your rental income.

If the property was vacant and for rent, then you would still make the deduction in the rental income schedule and have a loss.

OTHER EXPENSES

Other expenses which should be deducted from gross income to arrive at adjusted gross income are:

1. Expenses of travel, meals and lodging while away from home, paid by you in connection with the performance of your duties as an employee.

2. Deductions for expenses paid by you in connection with the performance of your duties as an employee under a reimbursement or expense allowance arrangement with your employer. (In excess of your allowance.)

3. Your expenses if you are an outside salesman.

4. Your business transportation expenses if you are an employee.

Your transportation expenses from your home to your place of employment are personal commuting and not deductible. Your personal living expenses cannot be deducted.

Your entertainment expenses are deducted from gross income if you are an outside salesman. If you are not an outside salesman, then they are only deductible on page 2.

VERY IMPORTANT

Why is it so important to deduct these expenses from your gross income in arriving at your adjusted gross income rather than deducting them from adjusted gross income to arrive at net taxable income?

Your medical expense is deductible to the extent that it exceeds 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income and your drugs and medicines are deductible as a part of your medical expense to the event that they exceed 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

With that in mind, it becomes very important to have your adjusted gross income as low as possible since this will increase your medical expense deductions.

Also, adjusted gross income and net taxable income are significant factors in other tax computations and comparison ratios and claiming a deduction in the wrong place could get you an unnecessary and time consuming audit.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Communications Industry Stocks Looking Very Good

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Our son enters college in 1969, and we hold 25 shares of American Telephone at 71, expecting this investment to help with his expenses. Should we switch to another blue chip or hold for recovery? The same question applies to Great A&P at 35½. — V. S.

A. Though I cannot promise that AT&T will have recovered to your cost price by September, 1969, I do believe you should hold your shares for recovery rather than accept a substantial loss of capital. AT&T is a dominant factor in the communications industry where increasing service demands are a continuing challenge to Bell's vast research facilities. Your shares have excellent long-range potential and might help to finance your son's later years in college.

Meantime you might consider a faster growth stock like Talley Industries or EG&G — both seemingly undervalued—to prepare for 1969.

Q. Is Continental Oil a good stock to hold? We are small investors and wonder about choosing as our broker a good friend — outstanding in his business — who lives in another state or someone in our home base who is recommended by friends we trust. — W.R.

A. By all means establish your brokerage account with someone in your city who is well recommended by people whose judgment you trust. You will find it much easier to sit down face-to-face to talk over your plans and possible problems. Continental Oil is a high-grade security. The company's activities are quite broadly diversified into petrochemicals, fertilizer and coal mining in addition to its original integrated oil operations. Earnings and dividends have been in a strong uptrend for the past 10 years, and future developments look promising.

Record Sales Send Stocks Up Sharply

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market today closed with a big gain and piled up the greatest volume in history, topping the 39-year record 16.41 million shares made on the "Black Tuesday" of Oct. 18, 1929.

Turnover topped 17 million shares minutes before the close.

Stocks closed at their highs of the day.

Volume for the first four hours was 13.64 million shares, compared with 7.2 million Friday.

Gains outnumbered losses by a ratio of about 4 to 1, considerably less than the overwhelming 12 to 1 ratio at the start.

The peak gains of the morning were cut back sharply on a Japanese report that North Vietnam hinted it would ignore or reject President Johnson's peace proposal. Trading dropped off sharply, and the ticker tape caught abreast of transactions at 12:39 p.m.

Late in the day IBM was up about 14 points, Scientific Data 9, Fairchild Camera 4, Lockheed 3, Control Data 4, General Motors 3, Chrysler and Ford about 1½ each.

Prices were strong on the American Stock Exchange.

Johnson Frees Party And Self By Decision

Only one other incumbent president, eligible for re-election, has eliminated himself so unequivocally as Lyndon Baines Johnson did last night.

None has done it so unexpectedly.

On almost the same date 16 years ago — March 29, 1952 — President Harry S Truman announced, "I shall not accept a renomination." But Truman's announcement was not unexpected. He was applying to himself the 22nd (no third term) Amendment, which he had supported but which did not apply to him as the incumbent when it passed.

Calvin Coolidge's "I do not choose to run" in 1928 was a mild disclaimer which Republican party leaders seized on as final because they really wanted some other candidate.

William Tecumseh Sherman, boomed for the Republican nomination in 1884, declared, "I will not run if nominated, and will not serve if elected." But Sherman was not president.

Equally as final were the words with which President Johnson unexpectedly closed his address to the nation last night.

"I shall not seek and I will not accept the nomination of my party for another term as your president."

MR. JOHNSON TOOK very high ground in making this announcement: that the tasks of the presidency are too important to be subjugated to partisan political campaigning.

Undoubtedly, however, political considerations—partisan or not—figured heavily in his decision; but it would be both unfair and unrealistic to assume he bowed out because he concluded he could not win. Despite his rather poor showing in New Hampshire, and despite whatever may happen tomorrow in Wisconsin, the president retains the political organization and power to almost assure himself renomination; and there is no reason to believe that Lyndon Johnson would doubt he could beat Richard Nixon.

WE MUST, THEN, credit the president with meaning what he said: that he feels the tasks of his office are such that he will devote "not an hour . . . to partisan cause" during the remainder of his term.

He said the nation must be united; its unity "must not now be lost in suspicion and distrust and politics."

These words, and the act of withdrawal as candidate to which they were attached, should help to unify support for his administration during the less than nine months remaining to it. But of course, removing President Johnson as a candidate will neither solve nor heal the pangs and questionings that divide the people.

HIS DECISION, however, has cleared the way for them to be solved and healed.

It has assured a free and open campaign. It leaves Democrats no longer inhibited by the ambivalence of party loyalty conflicting with personal principle. It opens the way for more Republican candidates, since the GOP nomination gains greater attraction when the nominee is not faced with the difficult task of unseating an incumbent.

Mr. Johnson should be able to perform better as president when he need not temper his decisions by campaign expediency.

He thus freed his party and the opposition party, and freed himself.

Lyndon B. Johnson has often been called a master politician. He has seldom been called a great statesman. But the decision he announced last night was not only that of a master politician—it was that of a statesman and patriot.

Third Time The Charm?

Bolinas-Stinson School District will try for the third time tomorrow to pass a bond issue for additions and replacements at Bolinas School.

The proposal this time is for a $325,000 issue. This is $50,000 more than that which twice failed of passage last year. The reason is that it is now planned to build six classrooms rather than four.

Trustees and architect have prepared a "frill-free" plan which is estimated to provide classrooms at $19.50 per square foot, several dollars below average cost. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. at Bolinas and Stinson Beach schools.

We trust "the third time will be the charm" for the Bolinas-Stinson issue.

Education Bond Issue Proposal Brings Out Startling Figures

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Some rather startling facts are scheduled to be brought out when Sen. Albert Rodda, D-Sacramento, argues for passage of SB 705, which proposes that the people of California vote on an additional $300 million bond issue for higher education.

The Rodda proposal comes in the wake of refusal by Gov. Ronald Reagan to meet requests of University of California and the state colleges for $311 million in the 1968-69 fiscal year budget. The governor fixed the sum for higher education at $280 million, pointing out that as desirable as the higher figure might be, there simply is not sufficient revenue.

"THE PEOPLE of California have been on a "buy now, pay later" basis for several decades, to the point where there is an outstanding bond debt of $4,476,466,000, according to the office of Ivy Baker Priest, state treasurer. In addition to that amount, there still remains a large amount of already authorized bonds to be sold.

Higher education has not been slighted in the borrowing. Just last January, Mrs. Priest sold a $100 million block of bonds for this purpose, bringing the outstanding total to $150 million.

Thus Senator Rodda's proposal, if passed by the people, would bring the total for higher education construction purposes to $400 million.

IN ADDITION to the proposed added costs, some preliminary thinking concerning the need will be brought out in opposition to the Rodda bill.

The impression has been gained by the public over the past several years that the demands of the educators are based on actual need. However, it has been pointed out several times by the legislative analyst not only that the demands exceed the needs, but also that higher education does not make full use of the facilities the taxpayers have bought.

Classroom usage is far below 100 per cent. There is employment of high-paid professors who conduct only one or two classes a week. Other items which are probably unnecessary add to the cost.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Another Cause Of Revolutions

Editor, Independent-Journal:

For some weeks now we have been bathed in the hogwash of the President's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorder . . . that there is a connection between poverty and immorality, and a new scientific phenomenon which causes poor people to become looters and arsonists in the summertime.

I reject their premises as well as their conclusions . . . Not just Negroes or poor people are immoral — rich white people commit crimes too. Most crooks don't steal bread — they steal cake!

Secondly I have been an engineer for over 20 years keeping up particularly with the new technologies such as nuclear power. Although recent Bay Area events may indicate that some think a little sunshine makes a hot summer, I have yet to find a connection between ambient temperature and morality.

A very wise man, Fredrick Bastiat, who lived at the time of the French Revolution, wrote: "When the people are encouraged to turn to government to settle all of their problems for them, the basis for all revolutions is thereby established. For then the people expect the government to provide them with all of the material things they want. And when these things are not forthcoming, they resort to violence to get them. And why not — since the government itself has told them that these responsibilities belong to government rather than to them? I am convinced that a revolution would not be possible if the only relationship between government and the people was to guarantee them their liberty and security."

Significant Decline In Teen Smokers

Editor, Independent-Journal:

For the first time in the last 10 years the percentage of teen-age smokers has declined significantly. A national research service indicates that in its sample city of Portland, Ore., only 25 per cent of 17-year-old males were regular smokers compared with 35 per cent when the studies began. Among 17-year-old girls 16 per cent compared with 26 per cent . . .

The new data are an enthusiastic sign that finally we're beginning to make progress in the war against cigarette smoking. There are about 1.5 million fewer cigarette smokers currently than a year ago despite a 3 million increase in the population. Confirmation comes from the just released U.S. statistics which show that the number of cigarettes manufactured in the three months ending this January was down 2.2 per cent . . .

There is no evidence whatsoever to suggest that these non-smokers are users of marijuana or other drugs instead. There is much to support the idea that successful non-smoking campaigns indirectly discourage the use of other drugs as well . . .

Soon to be released by the U.S. Public Health Service are simple self-examinations patterned on teaching machine principles which can show any smoker what kind of smoker he is, what method of quitting or reduction is best suited to him, and what problems to expect after quitting and how to combat them. In a few months this tool will be available through the Inter-Agency Council on Smoking and Health for use by individuals or groups of any size. The Marin County Health Department will have them as well as the medical, heart, cancer, and TB associations.

Does Superintendent Work For Public?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Alan Jones, in the March 22 edition, comments that the "superintendent (of schools) is not working for the school board. He is working for the voters of the district."

As a voter in the Mill Valley district, I would like to ask Mr. Jones to research his statements a little more carefully. Under the current status of school boards in this state, the superintendent is indeed working for the board. The board hires the superintendent and fires him, they set his salary and he is responsible to them. It is the board, an elective body, which is responsible to the electorate. By voting for them, we delegate the responsibility to them to employ capable administrational personnel.

It is in the case of the state Board of Education that the awkward situation has arisen that an appointed board must work with an elected superintendent. In this case, the superintendent is, indeed, responsible to the electorate, and it has stripped the board of any real method of setting policy when differences of opinion arise.

There is and has been ample opportunutiy for the voters to question Dr. (James F.) Collins . . . Perhaps the voters should learn a little more about the meaning of their votes when they elect a governing board. Certaintly I would expect a newspaper man to be better informed.

BABETTE C. BLOCH
Mill Valley.

(Editor's Note: The legal situation—which reader Bloch might research further—is that the board and all those it hires are working for the people. The board is also under quite strict legal control as to spending the people's money, and is expressly forbidden to hold closed sessions to discuss its expenditure, for salary raises or other purposes.)

Sausalito School Tax Issue Vital

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As in every community in the United States, the people of Sausalito have to deal with many issues in 1968. None is more immediate and potentially destructive than that involving the setting of the school district tax rate. It is quite accurate to say that it is a critical issue.

To be sure, property taxes are high and property owners logically hate to see them get higher. Also, it is time for a public discussion on alternative ways to finance public education. But the outright refusal or mere failure to approve the proposed tax rate could virtually destroy the public education system in our District. In this present circumstances, we voters have to choose between a relatively small dollars-and-cents saving and the continuation of a noble, if imperfect, attempt to make equal opportunity in public education an institution. An entire community, therefore, must now announce its set of values and list of priorities . . .

Time Is Here To Abolish 'Equal Time' Television Role

WASHINGTON — Aren't the prime purposes of a presidential campaign to let people know more about the candidates and the issues and to inspire them to vote?

If that's so — and it should be — then Congress ought to free television from the repressive restrictions of "equal time" and let it become a positive instrument for public debate among all candidates for all offices at all levels of government.

A resolution to do so is now before the House commerce committee and the case for its approval seems conclusive.

It would have been approved for the 1964 campaign if President Johnson, then more influential with Congress than he is today, hadn't passed the word that he didn't want it.

THE SUSPENSION of the equal-time provision would make possible the renewal of the type of debate in which Sen. John Kennedy and Richard Nixon engaged in 1960, or some other form of direct confrontation between the presidential nominees. But even that woulnd't be mandatory. It would be up to the television industry to offer its time and facilities free and it would be up to the candidates to accept or reject such appearances or to negotiate something different.

But it should be understood by the politicians that a presidential campaign is not the personal possession of the candidates and that, if they spurn the method of campaigning most valued and desired by the voters, they'd better look out.

WHEN THE EQUAL-TIME requirement has been in effect, it has not, as far as third parties are concerned, guaranteed equal time in practice. It has been a no-time provision since for practical purposes the law restricts the granting of time to those who can pay for it. The major parties have the money. The other parties don't and the only result is to give the two major parties an even greater monopoly of paid TV time.

When the equal-time requirement has been inoperative, as in 1960, none of the abuses it was designed to avert came into being. Television exercised its time allocations with manifest fairness and responsibility.

The addition of the more imaginative use of television in the Kennedy-Nixon campaign in 1960 provided one of the most animate and interesting elections the nation has ever had.

IT SEEMS TO ME that the best criteria by which we can judge the effectiveness of election campaigns are these:

To heighten the interest of the voters in their own participation in the process of self-government.

To expose the candidates to the public.

To get into the minds of as many people as possible both sieds of the main issues and to make it likely that more voters will be exposed to both candidates.

On the basis of these criteria, the joint appearances of the two nominees added a powerful new element to the 1960 campaign.

Polls showed that at the beginning of the 1956 campaign those "very much interested" numbered 46 per cent and at the end 47 per cent. But in 1960 those "very much interested" rose from 45 per cent at the start to 57 per cent at the end — an impressive 12 per cent improvement.

Consider two other facts. Industry studies show that when a paid political broadcast replaces an entertainment program, 30 per cent of the audience falls away. But the confrontation broadcasts in 1960 drew on the average 20 per cent more viewers than the entertainment programs they preempted. The entertainment shows usually hold 77 per cent of their audiences. The Nixon-Kennedy debates held 88 per cent of their audiences.

The time has come to put television to work free of charge, on its own responsibility, for more effective and educative political campaigns.

No Rules, No Reason In Strange Vietnam War

By ROBERT C. MILLER

(EDITOR'S NOTE: UPI war correspondent Robert C. Miller earned his credentials in World War II. He is now in his ninth tour of duty in Vietnam.)

DA NANG, Vietnam (UPI)— The Vietnam War is the most bizarre conflict ever covered by the press.

There are no fronts, no rear areas or secure sectors. Officially it isn't even a war; historically there's no official date when it started, nor is there a definitive objective—like unconditional surrender — required for its finish.

There are no campaigns, glorious victories, clear defeats as there were in World Wars I and II and Korea.

THERE'S CERTAINLY no chivalry between the adversaries, few rules of "humane" warfare.

There's no real censorship—(and whoever heard of a war without censors?)—on the allied side, but there are "ground side, but there are "ground rules" which, if violated, get the culprit either exiled by the South Vietnamese government, or excommunicated by the American command.

There is a myriad of opportunities for great reporting. Purple Hearts and "we regret to inform you" messages to next of kin. There is every battle discomfort except frostbite — along with excellent French cooking, wine, television and hot water.

Every modern machine of war has been imported here, yet the fighting is something like Apaches versus the cavalry with ambushes, outpost attacks, atrocities, and bushwacking. So far no scalpings have been reported, but there were reports of allied mercenaries being paid off for Viet Cong ears collected.

THE REPORTER has planes and helicopters to put him into the battles quickly. He has a reinforced regiment of government bureaucrats, information officers, public affairs officers, spokesmen, escorts and communicators to aid or deter and repress him, depending on the viewpoint—and then spends hours frantically and often futilely trying to transmit his story to the outside world.

There are no patriotic songs or slogans in the war. The Navy which "remembered the Maine" in the Spanish-American War, would just as soon forget the Maddox which got involved in the Tonkin Gulf incident. The troops here aren't spurred forward with "Berlin or bust," "Kill the Kaiser" "Hang Tojo" or "Remember Pearl Harbor" slogans.

As yet Tin Pan Alley hasn't come up with a Vietnam "Over There," a "Tipperary" or "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition" hit.

It's a war where a reporter can return from the blood, the sweat and the stench of battle, bathe, sip a cocktail, savor excellent food, go to bed in an air conditoned room, and then be knocked out of bed by a shell going through the wall.

Lot Of Plans To Retaliate If Commuter Tax Enacted

We certainly hope the good mayor of San Francisco will not insist on levying a commuter tax on Marin residents who work in San Francisco.

If the mayor persists and challenges surrounding counties to do likewise, the little counties may rise to the challenge and conjure up ingenious schemes of their own.

Most obvious is the suggestion of John McInnis, Mike Mitchell and several others that all marinites be urged to boycott San Francisco stores. If Stonestown patronage, for example, consists of 15 per cent from Marin alone, a concerted effort by Marin and the Peninsula could put a sizeable dent in the retail sales in San Francisco.

WE'D HAVE TO WORK on some method of slapping a special tax on San Franciscans who fish, swim, camp and get lost in Marin's recreation spots. One vehicle for such a tax might be through the fishing license. Post all fishing and clamming areas along Marin's coastline and water district lakes with a notice that San Franciscans must pay an extra $3. Enforcement could be by spot-checking all the favorite fishing spots, with a stiff fine for violators.

And how about toll gates on roads leading to recreation areas like the Point Reyes Seashore where San Franciscans could pay a special tax to help maintain roads they use to reach the recreation areas?

IF MARIN commuters must help pay for San Francisco fire, police and street improvement, then Mayor Alioto's constituents ought to pay for the sheriff's and fire protection in our recreation areas, and for the litter cleanup service, rescue service, marine patrol and other conveniences we provide to help San Franciscans who find themselves stranded on mudflats, atop cliffs, or lost on Mt. Tam.

One thing that the commute tax controversy has clarified is the relative cost of property taxes in San Francisco and in Marin.

Marin Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchell did some quick computing and came up with these figures:

A $30,000 home in an average tax area in Marin, based on a 23 per cent assessed value and average tax rate of $10.67, pays $736 in taxes.

A comparable home in San Francisco, based on 25 per cent of assessed value and tax rate of $8.80, pays $660. The Marin taxpayer coughs up about $76 more per year.

Supervisor Peter Behr summed up the inequity in this way: A commuter tax on Marinites would make Mayor Alioto a kind of Robin Hood in reverse. "It would take money from a number of commuters who don't own their own homes and are not well-to-do, and use it to ease the propertied class in San Francisco, who have recently joined the unhappy club of suburban homeowners and, having lost a dishonest assessor, are paying their fair share of the city's property tax bill for the first time in living memory."

IT'S DIFFICULT to visualize, but did you know that the courthouse square in San Rafael can be doubled in size if the adjoining streets were closed to traffic and added to the courthouse property?

Supervisor Tom Storer got figures showing 79,500 square feet in the present courthouse property. Total square footage of adjoining streets (Fourth, Fifth, A and Court) is 97,080 square feet.

Why not close the streets and use them as pedestrian malls, putting parking and traffic underground? asks Storer. "This would allow a developer to put in more floor space and still leave enough open space to meet San Rafael requirements."

Of course, closing Fourth Street and Fifth Avenue would add a lot of new traffic problems.

Be Sure To Smile As You Swing If You Ever Spank Your Wife

WASHINGTON — I rarely take an interest in a divorce story, but last week I was intrigued by actress Dyan Cannon's divorce suit against movie actor Cary Grant. In the course of the testimony, Mrs. Grant charged that her husband spanked her. But Mr. Grant's lawyer defended the actor by stating his client had only spanked his wife for "reasonable and adequate causes."

My mind boggled when I read this and I immediately called my lawyer and asked him what was legally considered a "reasonable and adequate cause" for spanking one's wife.

My lawyer, one of the great legal minds of this country, said: "This is the seventh call I've gotten today. I didn't realize Cary Grant had such an ardent following."

"Just answer the question," I said.

"WELL, EACH STATE provides 'reasonable and adequate' causes for spanking a wife but there are also general standards which are accepted in all 50 states."

"Could you give me some examples?"

"First you must prove provocation beyond a shadow of a doubt. For example, if your wife interrupts you while yeu're telling a joke in mixed company, you, of course, have a right to spank her."

"Is nagging sufficient cause?"

"Not nagging per se, but if she keeps repeating herself over and over again, you can swat her."

"WHAT IF SHE'S constantly late?"

"That goes under heading of chronic tardiness. Tardiness was upheld in the Conrad vs. Conrad divorce case of 1954. If you recall, Mrs. Conrad was always late when they were going out to dinner. So one night Conrad let her have it.

"Mrs. Conrad sued for cruelty, but lost."

"Because the judge said it was okay for Mr. Conrad to have spanked her?" I asked.

"No, because Mrs. Conrad showed up too late for the trial."

MY LAWYER said there were many mitigating circumstances for paddling your wife. One of the most serious was if she showed willful disregard for times when you were trying to sleep and she wanted to talk.

He added: "When you discuss spanking your wife, you must always keep in mind three guidelines: one is motive, two is intent, and three is desire. What was her motive in bugging you? How long did she intend to pursue it? And when did you desire to strike back?

"Another thing to keep in mind is how you commit the assault. In the case of Cary Grant, the testimony related he grinned when he spanked his wife. Now this was a wise thing. If you always grin when you strike your wife, you can never be accused of malice."

"IF YOU'RE in doubt," I asked, "is it better to strike her or to check first to see if you have legitimate grounds?"

"This question comes up all the time. We usually go by the Linseed vs. Linseed ruling of 1949 in which the judge ruled that the reason for spanking your wife is not as important as when you do it."

"I don't understand."

"The judge, in his historic Linseed decision, said that a wife must only be spanked reasonably close to the act of disobedience. Otherwise, she will not relate the spanking to the disobedient act. Also, the spanking must be swift, but not harsh, and you may never leave any marks. Above all else, you must smile while you're doing it."

Hamilton Center Searches For Planes

Story and Photos by
THERON A. NEWELL

"I'm out of gasoline and going down."

Those words were picked up on the radio at the airport in Arcata on Feb. 10 and immediately relayed to the Western Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Center at Hamilton Air Force Base.

They came from a plane with Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Merkley of Portland, Ore. enroute from Salem, Ore. to Redding. Because the signals were picked up in Arcata, it was thought that the plane was off course.

This put into action a search that extended for two weeks in which 283 sorties were flown with more than 500 hours of flying time trying to locate the downed plane.

In the records of the Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Center, it has gone down as one of the 22 missions in the past seven years, which has ended without either rescue or finding wreckage and victims.

"That is an average of three such missions per year," said Capt. Peter R. Cubeta, one of the rescue coordinators at the senter.

The center itself does not have a plane, but coordinates all types of search and rescue operations, said Col. Tracy J. Peterson, commander of the center.

For example last year it had 1,710 incidents reported, but these narrowed down to 191 rescue mission. Of these, 64 were civilian aircraft and 20 military aircraft crashes. The rest were ground rescue mission, Captain Cubeta said.

The number of missions has been decreasing for the past four years. It had 297 in 1964; 261 in 1965; 224 in 1966 and 191 last year.

"This is not so much an improvement in the number of incidents, but more an improvement in our techniques of determining authentic missions which we must coordinate," Colonel Peterson said.

The center calls on all types of rescue organizations. These include the military, state, county, city and civilians.

For example, it can request help from all types of military aircraft, the Civil Air Patrol, Federal Aviation Agency, Federal Communications Commission, forestry service, fish and game officials, or park superintendents.

It can call on the police and other officials in the state, counties and cities.

When it gets to civilian organizations, it has a card file of approximately 500 organizatonns in the eight Western States on which it can call for assistan ce. These vary from ski patrols to boy scouts, mountain rescue organizations and ham radio operators, all on a voluntary basis.

"Price is no consideration if there is a chance to rescue someone," Colonel Peterson said. The government pays for the gasoline for the Civil Air Patrol, but the men donate their flying time, he said.

He pointed with pride the large-scale rescue operation in which the center directed air food drops and land rescue missions to Indians during the heavy blizzard last December. Although no outfits from Hamilton were directly involved in the mission, the center directed the operation in which hundreds of hours were spent getting thousands of pounds of supplies to the Navajo and Hopi Indians stranded by the storm in Arizona and New Mexico.

The center at Hamilton is manned 24 hours a day with two men on duty at al times. Any rescue mission is commanded either by Colonel Peterson or Vice Commander Lt. Col. Wilbur Hackett.

In 1964, they directed 297 missions involving 878 persons missing. They saved 598; found 249 deceased and have 31 missiong. Last year they had 191 missions involving 981 missing persons. They save 852, found 80 deceased and have 49 still missing, Captain Cubeta said.

"It can be a gruesome business, or a happy business," Colonel Peterson said.

Performing are (from left) Capt. Peter R. Cubeta, rescue coordinator, T/Sgt. Kenneth Miller, manning the controls. (Independent-Journal photos)

NAACP Opposing School Policy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Supt. Robert Jenkins' plan not to pursue school integration is opposed by the NAACP.

Jenkins said recently that a series of forums had shown overwhelming opposition to busing of children.

Some Negro spokesmen have said separate black schools would be better, so long as they are run and staffed by black teachers and are educationally excellent.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Anti-Cancer Drugs A Definite Value In Advanced Cancer Forms

VAN DELLEN

Surgery and radiation are the mainstays of cancer treatments. When these fail or the malignancy has spread elsewhere, the physician resorts to palliative measures. Among these are many anti-cancer drugs developed in recent years.

Anti-cancer drugs provide temporary relief in some sufferers and prolong life in others. Selection and use of these products depend upon the type and extent of the cancer. Anticipated benefits must be balanced against serious side reactions such as increased susceptibility to infection, ulcerations of the mouth and gastrointestinal tract, bone marrow depression, and toxic effects on other organs. Some of these drugs also may lead to nausea, vomiting, virilization, and hair loss.

IN MY EXPERIENCE, anticancer medications are of definite value in various forms of advanced cancer. A few cures have been reported in women with choriocarcinoma. But because these drugs are potent, care must be taken so that the treatment is not worse than the disease.

More than 30 brand name anticancer drugs are available. When one no longer is effective, or when resistance develops, another drug may be tried. We must emphasize that in certain malignancies, chemotheraphy is of limited value. Despite known limitations, the physician may suggest a trial in the hope that the victim will benefit physically and psychologically.

SOME COMMON drugs help to suppress the growth of cancer hormones, steriods, and Actinomycin D. Methotrexate, mercaptopurine, and fluorouracil interfere with the metabolism of cancer cells. Alkylating agents such as Thiotepa, Busulfan, chlorambucil, Uracil Mustard, and Mechlorethamine HCl are thought to disrupt the chromosomes. Other agents include the vinca alkaloids and Urethan.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

COMMUNITY CUP

A reader writes: Our church still adheres to the practice of drinking from a common wine cup for holy communion. Can disease be transmitted in this way?

REPLY

Yes, but it is surprising how seldom it occurs.

ULCER MEDICATIONS

E. M. C. writes: Are there any effective medications to cure peptic ulcer?

REPLY

Yes, many. For practical purposes ulcers are healed but not cured, and recurrences are common if the individual succumbs to tension and returns to erratic eating and drinking habits. Despite the best medication and hygiene, however, a small percentage of sufferers do not respond. These individuals are candidates for surgery.

ULTRASONICS AND SPURS

O. B. writes: Will ultrasonic therapy chip off a spur on the heel?

REPLY

Ultrasonic waves are capable of destroying tissue when used in larger than recommended doses. These waves cannot be pinpointed on a small bony spur, hence treatments could not be given without damaging the surrounding tissue.

SPEEDY GROWTH

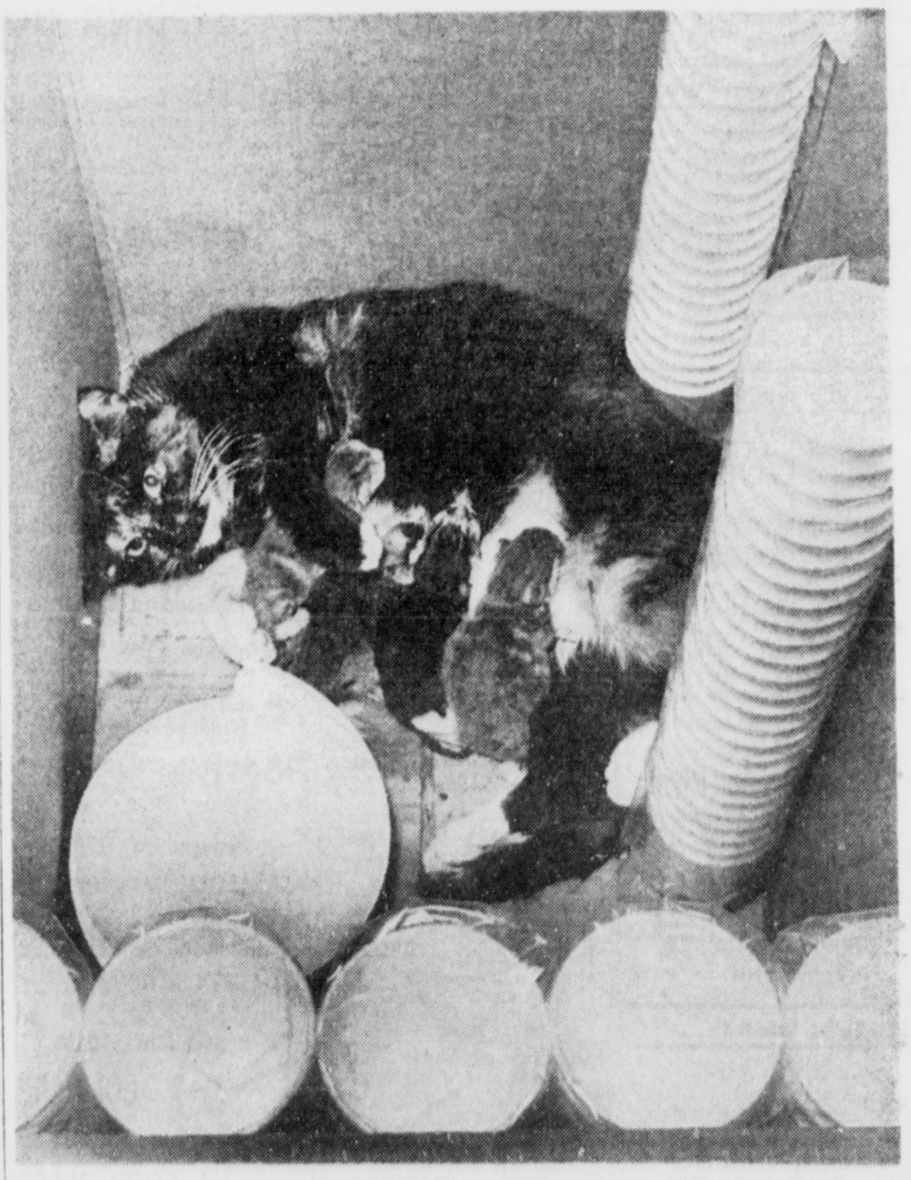
N. N. writes: My rnails grow so fast I have to cut them every week. Have you any explanation for this?

REPLY

The nails grow 1-16th of an inch during this time and most of us clip or file them once a week.

Today's Health Hint—

No two people are exactly alike.



A REASON FOR PERSISTENCE

For several days, employees of the Jay of Marin beauty shop at 536 Fourth Street, San Rafael, kept chasing a trespassing cat from the place, but the animal persisted. Last week, a maintenance man left a rear door open and the cat slipped in and jumped into a coffee cup storage box —just the place to give birth to a litter of six kittens. Four Kennedy Chairmen Named

Four co-chairmen, including former U. S. Treasurer Elizabeth R. Gatov of Kentfield, have been named at an organizational meeting of the Kennedy for President Coordinating Committee for Marin County.

Mrs. Gatov was treasurer under President Kennedy. Other honorary co-chairmen are Byron W. Leydecker of San Rafael and D. Cameron Baker Jr. and Robert L. Harmon of Belvedere.

All four are Marin Democratic delegates pledged to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy at the national convention in August.

The committee will hold a public meeting from 4 to 7 p.m. April 6 at the Julius Friedman residence, 2098 Huckleberry Road, Lucas Valley.

Others at the organizational meeting in Sausalito were Jody Becker of Ross, Michael Berger and Marvin B. Halken of Mill Valley, Joseph A. Forest and Robert D. Carrow of Novato, Friedman, Olive Lewis of San Rafael, S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito and Robert E. Mertle of Terra Linda.

Berkeley Campus Has To Redirect 2,000

BERKELEY (UPI)—For the first time in its history, the University of California has turned away qualified applicants.

David B. Stewart, admissions officer, said more than 2,000 students who sought to study at Berkeley were denied admission and "administratively redirected" to other U.C. campuses.

Stewart said 1,442 freshmen and 62 advanced ssudents were not accepted. He said the step was taken so the campus could hold to its guideline enrollment ceiling of 27,000 students.

Only three U.C. campuses can take the "redirected" students —Riverside, Davis and Santa Barbara. The other campuses also have reached their enrollment limitations.

"I think we will be able to place all of the students, but I could be wrong," said Ted Johnston, associate director of the university's division of school relations.

Center Claims Restaurant Lacks Link To Plans

Officers of the Red Hill Shopping Center have written the San Anselmo City Council to correct "the apparent misunderstanding . . . between ourselves and the members of your council" regarding easement rights on Arbor Road.

At last week's council meeting, councilmen asked City Atty. John G. Buresh look into possibility of condemning and purchasing the private road after shopping center owners refused a proposed Jack-in-the-Box restaurant permission to use the road.

In a letter dated March 29, E. S. Arntz, a partner in the shopping center firm wrote that permission was refused, not for fear of competition to the center, but because the restaurant was considered incompatible with shopping center plans.

Arntz also said the owners were not free to grant permission to the proposed restaurant because of "contractual committments of long standing."

Parade Of Color By Japan Town

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Japan Town is now vying with Chinatown in the department of colorful parades.

An hour-long procession of exotic floats and marching groups, mostly Japanese ladies and young girls wearing picturesque kimonos, concluded the city's first Cherry Blossom Festival yesterday.

The event attracted such a large crowd that the parade was slowed almost to a standstill at times.

Case Continued

George Ventura of 8 Doris Drive, Novato, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court Friday on charges that he sold and possessed marijuana in Novato Feb. 4 and Jan. 29. His case was continued until next Friday for entry of plea.

Go ahead, buy some blue sky!

(But, don't stop there!) Buy where there's already a million dollar country club . . . a private, jet-age airport . . . a small lake for boating and fishing . . . a much larger lake for faster boating and bigger fishing . . . fully improved roads, dedicated bridle trails, town houses, architectural planning, commercial as well as residential zoning – all the nice things that come with a total plan. The world's best stock market is California land. If you agree, invest in your own tomorrow. Cameron Park sky seems more blue, because there's something under it. Blue sky your banker understands.

Cameron Park is more than recreation property. Cameron Park is a 4,000 acre completely planned development including residential, commercial and light industrial land. It's located just 30 miles East of Sacramento on Highway 50. Here, you'll discover a Sierra Foothill "world of difference", with millions already invested, millions more to come. You can almost see your money grow as good properties become more scarce. The clean, fresh air at Cameron Park's 1200 foot altitude provides the perfect climate. More than half of the homesites have been sold to Bay Area residents who have had enough of crowded urban conditions, fog and smog, restless apprehensions and overpriced land values. They have planned for a better tomorrow. How about your family? Shouldn't they be sharing in California's golden growth by owning some blue sky with a whole lot under it? Mail this coupon today for more information. It's the right opportunity you can afford!
